T A CUTTING

THE CAMPBELL PRESS

AND THE VALLEY ECHO

Volume 34, Number 2 | Campbell, Santa Clara County, California | Thursday, October 15, 1936

Current Events Interpreted

Bomb Proof, Gas Proof

A new note of grim reality was in a dispatch that came out of London last week. All the words about war, war, and more war that we've been hearing ever since the last armistice was signed, are not half so sinister. This dispatch described a new gas and bomb proof office building, on which "war conditioning" has just been completed. Air-conditioned ducts run through the building, where 50 persons work, to sets of air purifiers in the basement. All windows have shrapnel proof shutters. Under the building is a subterranean chamber fitted with telephone, running water, emergency electric light, canned food, and, as an extra precaution, mustard gas ointment. If this keeps up, the human race will be living entirely under ground before many more years are out.

We Own the $50,000,000

There is some unnecessary confusion abroad in California today. Various taxpayers are looking with unbelieving amazement at a November ballot initiative which proposes to bring the state some $50,000,000 in revenue, without taxing anybody. It's the measure prohibiting tideland oil drilling, and authorizing slant drilling from the uplands. The confusion apparently arises out of the taxpayer's instinctive reaction that this is something for nothing, and therefore not quite real. Actually, the measure is merely a long-needed adjustment permitting the state, through leases, to get its just due on oil it owns and always has. The minimum estimate of revenue from royalties is $2,000,000 a year for a period of 25 years.

Pittsburgh's Madcap Mayor

What would you think of a mayor who kept his desk in the city hall lobby where he sat munching apples, who played a violin (in lieu of a speech) before a community gathering he was to address, and who, among other things, played a week's engagement at a theater as a master of ceremonies to get funds to fight a political battle? We wouldn't, either. But it wasn't these escapades that caused the downfall of William Nissley McNair, madcap mayor of Pittsburgh, Pa., who resigned his office last week. His big mistake, when the city faced a financial mix-up, was to pass it off with "That's all right—we commoners wouldn't feel right with a lot of money anyway." He had to resign because the city last week coasted critically near to financial ruin.

It's A China Clipper Now

At last the China Clipper is really the China Clipper. Pan American Airways the other day announced extension of the western terminal, formerly Manila, to Hongkong. When the giant airship zooms out of the Golden Gate on Oct. 21 on the first scheduled passenger flight across the Pacific, it will be bound for old Cathay proper. For the first time, it will bridge the largest ocean all the way. You may recall news dispatches explaining the original reason for keeping the terminal at Manila for so long. They said Japan had told China it would be "inadvisable" to grant the landing facilities. That may have been fiction. In any case, it was the British who finally came through, voluntarily offering landing facilities in Hongkong.

Clever Race, These Chinese

If pin ball machines, those ubiquitous contraptions that all but do a song and dance for you if you hit a certain hole—if the pin ball machines are games of pure chance, how do you explain what happened in San Francisco's Chinatown? Some say the slightly rough boards and the slightly different weight or unround balls make the machines pure chance. But when they installed them in Chinatown, the Chinese, greatly intrigued, played them day and night and soon began to catch on. They became so proficient and made such high scores that the owners soon faced the alternative of taking the games out or going broke. A clever race, these Chinese.

VIRTUOSO

Jan Kubelik

Leightweights Beat S. C. In First League Joust

By Don Martin

Campbell high lightweights defeated Santa Clara Friday in the first league games of the season here. Both 110- and 120-pound classes showed great speed and led their opponents over the whole route. The 110's walked over Santa Clara for a 29-10 victory, while the score in the 120 contest was 32-15.

Kasumi Uclujama was high-point man on the local 110 squad, scoring 18 points. Others scoring were Paul Borg, 8; Gerald Brown, 2, and Donald O'Hare, 1.

Mitchell Lobrovitch starred in the 120 game, making 12 points, while John Kawachi, George Kurasaki, Thern Hoerler, Edwin Meeks and Lewis Ragnacci scored 8, 7, 2, 2, and 1 points respectively.

Frannk Ono led cheers for the Campbell high rooters.

The featherweights will meet San Jose "Tech" in a practice game tomorrow evening at 7:30.

California's Hour Moves to Bay Dist.

Host Conrad Nagel and "California's Hour" will salute the city of Oakland and Alameda county from the stage of the Oakland civic arena on Monday, Oct. 19, at 9:30 o'clock p. m.

Announcement that the cast of the popular variety hour, including Star Donald Novis and Conductor David Broekman, would move from Los Angeles to the bay region for the community tribute was made today by the sponsors (California Chain Stores association).

The salute to Alameda county will be the 26th of a series staged by "California's Hour" since its state-wide search for new stars of radio began at Fresno last April.

Six musical acts, representing the cream of amateur and professional talent from Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and surrounding communities, will be presented on the program. One of them will survive to enter a semi-final contest the following Monday, Oct. 26.

PAC. GROVE VACATION

Mrs. Frank Cutting returned yesterday from a vacation at Pacific Grove.

End of the Black Legion

And now down goes the Black Legion, crushed first by a newspaper expose, then last week wiped out when a judge sentenced six of its leaders to life imprisonment for murder. It was a fitting end to as murderous a band of terrorists ever to function in this country as a "society" pretending patriotism. It should stand as a warning to all would-be fascists with some grandiose scheme of ultimate dictatorship in their minds. The encouraging thing about it is that the band was put down not by violence, but in the American way, after a full trial in court. It was a victory for law and order over the "isms" methods of violence.

Violin Recital to Advance Career Of Valley Artist

Thursday, Oct. 22, at the San Jose Civic auditorium, Jan Kubelik, world-renowned virtuoso, is to give a violin recital complimentary to his protege, Joan Halamicek, one of our own Santa Clara county artists. This will launch her 1937-38 American-European tour fund.

Joan Halamicek needs no introduction. She made her debut before a capacity house in Chicago at Orchestra hall four years ago, and a bow to the Pacific coast audience at the Veterans' auditorium in San Francisco two years ago. Critics everywhere have been unanimous in acclaiming, in glowing terms, her outstanding genius.

Jan Kubelik heard her play last March and declared her talent the most sensational he has ever heard, saying, "Joan will positively be a 'bombshell" in the musical world." It has been Joan's good fortune since April to have received most generously of Mr. Kubelik's time, talent, and experience in order to prepare her for a successful concert tour.

In view of the fact that a world-famous violinist is willing to promote Joan Halamicek to the extent of the entire proceeds of a concert, let each and every representative citizen put his shoulder to the wheel in the "spirit of Kubelik" and see that the auditorium is filled to overflowing. Let us show this famous artist our appreciation by our whole-hearted support on the night of Oct. 22.

Local Gridders Meet Santa Clara Here Friday Aft.

By Don Martin

Campbell high football team will play Santa Clara in its first league game of the season on the local grid tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. Coach Bert Chappell says that if his team plays the whole game as well as they played the second half at Montezuma, the Bengals will find Campbell "plenty tough."

Yesterday afternoon the local squad scrimmaged against Montezuma. The boys looked both good and bad, but the spirit is mounting and fans may expect lots of fireworks in Friday's game.

The student body held a big rally this noon in earnest support of the players. Capt. Joe Bohnett promised that the team would do its best, and "bring home the bacon" tomorrow if possible. The rally was followed by a parade.

Santa Clara, like Campbell, has lost her two opening practice games, the first to Centerville 17-7 and the second to Menlo, 13-0.

Follows the Campbell line-up for the Santa Clara clash:

left end, Sherman; left tackle, Lewis, left guard, Fortini; center, J. Bohnett; right guard, Conetti; right tackle, Archibald; right end, Meeks; left half, O'Hare; right half, Azevedo; fullback, Lovoi.

O'Hare is expected to dazzle the visitors with his speed. Borg, Karnagel expect to show their wares in the backfield, as do Sheley, Ashcraft and T. Bohnett.

Emma Dalvit Ranch Is Sold

The sale of the 13-acre ranch on Winchester road which the late Emma Dalvit left to her sister, Miss Anne Schulte, was made by the Guy E. Farley Realty office Saturday, the purchaser being Ugo Orsi.

Miss Schulte and Mrs. Allen, who made their home with their sister for several years, will remain at the ranch for the present, but will later go to Los Angeles where Miss Schulte has property. Although their plans are not definitely made, their many friends here hope they will return to make this their permanent residence.

MRS. TURNER BETTER

At the latest report, Mrs. James Turner, who has been critically ill for some time ,is somewhat improved. As she is suffering from a serious heart ailment and extremely low blood pressure, any improvement would be very gradual.

"IT LOOKS LIKE LANDON AND KNOX"

Politically, as well as artistically, Alf M. Landon and Frank Knox are gaining new support. Here is a new oil painting of Republican standard bearers which was painted by Miss M. C. Herrick, distinguished artist of Piedmont, who presented it as a gift to the Republican Campaign Committee. Miss Juanita Woisard and Miss Marie O'Donnell, two ardent workers among the younger Republicans, are hanging the painting in the Northern California Campaign Headquarters, 883 Market Street, San Francisco.

Private Funeral For Anna May Morris Monday

Private funeral services for the late Anna May Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Morris of Hamilton avenue, were held from the Amos Williams parlors Monday morning.

Miss Morris passed away aboard a street car in San Francisco last Thursday. She was born in England.

Beside her parents, she is survived by sisters, Mrs. Gladys Stockfleth, Mrs. Cynthia Baffer, and Mabel Morris.

The Rev. Hugh Jones conducted the services. Interment was at the Santa Clara cemetery, pall bearers being Messrs John Pugh, William Pugh, Mark Stocker, Robert Scholz, Harry Evans and Harry Smith.

Kiwanians Hold "Fish Fry" At Capitola Tues.

Another "fish fry" is history to the Campbell Kiwanis club which enjoyed its annual dinner and gaming night at Hal Morton's Capitola cottage.

Reports of the district convention were made by Ira Abbott, S. N. Hedegard, and Morton.

Report comes home of an excellent dinner at which the "pie-faces" enjoyed their fill.

Ralph Hyde was chairman of the business hour and Edwin Bowling supervised the gaming tables. Fish stories expanded as the evening advanced.

T. A. Cutting will be chairman at the tenth anniversary dinner Tuesday. He is the first president now surviving. Alvin Long, president of the San Jose sponsoring club then will be the speaker. Wendell Thomas was then governor of the Calineva district.

Other officials who will speak are Gov. Charles Crooke, Lieut-Gov. Bay Hays, and Lieut-Gov.-Elect Ira Abbott.

Grange to Hold Open Meet Soon

Orchard City grange will hold an open meeting at 8:15, Tuesday evening, Oct. 27, at which time the proposed amendments to the California constitution will be explained. The public is cordially invited, and voters will have an opportunity to become properly informed on these propositions.

FROM THE CITY

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Koenig were

"Books" Topic of Henri Hill, Next Club Program

Another interesting meeting is in store for members of the Country Woman's club next Monday, Oct. 19, when Henri Hill of San Jose will discuss "Books."

A musical program has also been arranged including a trio by Miss Emily Bohnett, violin; Miss Lois Bohnett, cello, and Mrs. Charles Brandenburg, piano, and a group of piano solos by Miss Emily Bohnett.

The ladies responsible for the afternoon are Mrs. J. B. Strong, Mrs. Brandenburg, Mrs. E. J. Bohnett and Mrs. R. W. Kennedy.

Business meeting at 2:30 p. m. and the program at 3 o'clock.

Factory Man Will Demonstrate Here

Elsewhere in today's paper appears an advertisement of the Leverton hardware store, announcing a factory demonstration and paint sale of the DuPont paint line for Friday and Saturday, Oct. 16-17.

"Tex" tells us that Mr. Ward, DuPont representative, will be at his store on these two days to demonstrate the many materials in the DuPont paint line, and to assist anyone wanting information or needing help in painting. The DuPont company renders this service without obligation to buy, in order that those desirous of doing their own painting may get the right materials, and expert advice on "how to do it."

"Tex" tells us color booklets will be given away free on these two days to those calling at the store.

From reading the advertisement found elsewhere in this issue, and from what is heard down at the Leverton hardware store, this sale is to be worth while, and those who are now, or soon-to-be in the market for paint materials, may take advantage of these splendid offers.

DuPont paints are now manufactured in the new DuPont paint factory recently completed at South San Francisco.

VISIT MRS. WHITMAN

A number of Campbell friends have enjoyed visits with Mrs. Lydia Whitman who arrived in San Jose last week and is at the home of cousins, Mr. and Mrs. B. Critchlow at 1098 Chapman street. Many other friends will have the pleasure of greeting her Monday at the meeting of the Country Woman's club, which she plans to attend.

down from San Francisco Sunday visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. James.

C. of C. Urges High Board to Complete Job

The Campbell chamber of commerce met Monday evening and discussed several important matters.

It was the expressed desire of the members that the high school board take immediate steps to secure federal aid to help complete the new high school building, the first unit of which has just been completed.

The school board will act on the matter in the near future, and if favorable to completion of the second unit a bond issue for near the $100,000-mark will probably be asked.

A traffic problem has developed because of the necessity of students continually crossing the highway to and from the new unit. This problem cannot be satisfactorily solved until the entire school system is housed in the new plant.

Camp Fire Girls Hostesses to 30 Executives Here

Mrs Elizabeth M. Townsend of Alice avenue, president of the Guardians' association of Camp Fire, and her Tawasi group of Camp Fire girls were hostesses to a group of 30 leaders and counselors who attended a meeting Saturday evening in the Scout and Camp Fire hall in Campbell.

A delicious supper was served and each guest was given as a favor a small figure dressed in Camp Fire uniform, which were the work of the hostess group.

A nominating committee was selected at the business meeting, composed of Miss Bernadine Zingheim, Miss Waunetta McConnell, and Mrs. Dorothy Davidson. Games and songs concluded a pleasant evening.

Mrs. Wellington To Entertain Local Service Club

The attractive country home of Mrs. Arthur Wellington on Macey road will be the meeting place of the Women's Service club, next Wednesday, Oct. 21. Mrs. Wellington's assistants in serving tea will be Mrs. Raymond Fish, Mrs. C. T. Tanner, Mrs. Floy Morris and Mrs. Lydia Brooks. Mrs. Lloyd Wood will be in charge of the program.

In continuance of its program of improvements in the Methodist church, which has already added several attractive items to the working equipment, the club recently installed a Wedgewood gas range in the kitchen, replacing an inadequate one.

Punditas Meet With Mrs. Smith

Pundita Circle members assembled yesterday at the home of Mrs. George Smith, Jr., whose coentertainers were Mrs. Laura Allen and Miss Anne Schulte.

The club voted to give five dollars to the student loan fund of the county federation of women's clubs, and then heard a report given by Mrs. Purmort, of the garden section meeting held at her home last week.

Miss Schulte opened the program by outlining the year's cruise around the world which is the theme of the year's study.

Mrs. Allen then started the second cruise by reading articles from a New York paper and the National Geographic, describing the city of Shanghai, and another depicting life in a tea house.

Miss Schulte captained the three-day journey from Shanghai to Hongkong and after exploring that city, led her fellow travelers on several side trips of a day's length, including Canton and Macao.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. R. Y. Maxon, with Mrs. M. E. Purmort and Mrs. D. H. Cramer as her committee helpers, and Manila will be the port of call.

Pen Repairs — Smith's Stationery

Current Events in Review

By Edward W. Pickard

© Western Newspaper Union

Mormons Are Off the Dole, Says President Grant

SIX months ago the Latter Day Saints church—otherwise the Mormons—inaugurated a program to make every able bodied member self-supporting by October 1. In the great tabernacle at Salt Lake City Heber J. Grant, president of the church, told an audience that the plan had succeeded and that the drive had taken all the needy members off public relief. The church has consistently opposed "pay without work." In reading his report President Grant took occasion to criticise the Townsend pension plan and government control of crops, and he warned the members to avoid "political entanglements."

Heber J. Grant

Under the church relief drive, land was leased and the needy provided with implements for tilling. Womens groups have made clothes and bedding. Members have contributed the financial equivalent of two meals monthly to a special fund.

In scattered storehouses, Mr. Grant reported, supplies have been laid up in generous quantities for distribution among the needy who helped produce them.

Under the program, the speaker declares, "the curse of idleness would be done away with, the evils of a dole abolished, and independence, thrift, and self-respect will be once more established amongst our people."

Social Security Act Is Due for a Court Test

UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE C. B. KENNEMER of Montgomery, Ala., issued an order halting collection in Alabama of a one per cent payroll tax to finance the unemployment program. The result, it is expected, will be a clear cut test of the validity of the New Deal's social security act, for lawyers had no doubt the case would be carried to the United States Supreme court. The order was granted the Gulf States Steel corporation of Gadsden, Ala., on a plea that the unemployment insurance program, operated in co-operation with the federal government violates both state and federal constitutions. A Supreme court hearing would carry the threat of possible invalidation of insurance and pension programs now under development in the several states.

Chicago Meat Packers Cited by Wallace

CHARGES of engaging in unfair practices have been filed against the Armour and Swift meat packing companies of Chicago, and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace has cited them for a hearing in New York on November 2, for violation of the packers and stockyards act of 1921.

According to Dr. A. W. Miller of the bureau of animal industry, the complaint was based on the charge that the packers had been obtaining business in violation of the law from steamship companies in New York.

Under the alleged illegal arrangement, Miller said, Armour and Swift had arranged a reciprocal agreement by which they sold meat to the ship owners and in return sent their exports abroad in their ships.

Another charge was that the packers had extended credit for longer periods for favored customers than for others.

Test Case Started Under Robinson-Patman Act

THREE complaints were filed by the federal trade commission under the Robinson-Patman act, naming five concerns, launching the first move to test its powers under this far-reaching legislation which forbids the granting or receiving by merchandisers of discriminatory price discounts in interstate commerce.

The complaints named Montgomery Ward and Company, Inc.; Kraft - Phenix Cheese corporation, Chicago; Shefford Cheese company, Inc., Syracuse, N. Y.; Bird and Son, Inc., and Bird Floor Covering Sales corporation, East Walpole, Mass.

Montgomery Ward and Company is named jointly with Bird and Son and the Bird Floor Covering Sales corporation, a subsidiary. The complaint contends that the two Bird companies sold floor coverings to Montgomery Ward and Company at substantially lower prices than to competing retailers.

Kraft-Phenix Cheese was charged with discriminating in price between purchasers, with the alleged effect of lessening and injuring competition between it and other manufacturers and distributors of similar products. Lessening of competition between customers of Kraft-Phenix was also alleged, and some of them were alleged to have received favored prices.

In filing its bill of complaint, the commission pointed out that no allegation was made of "bad faith or any subterfuge or secrecy on the part of Kraft-Phenix in connection with its price policy."

Charges against Shefford Cheese were substantially the same as in the case of Kraft-Phenix.

Secretary Ickes Reports Alleged Collusive Bids

SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR ICKES referred to the Department of Justice for investigation two new instances of alleged collusive bidding for federal construction material contracts. The charges are against seventeen copper cable and steel tubing firms. The Justice department already has under investigation previous charges made by Ickes of collusive bidding on steel contracts.

The projects affected were the North Platte reclamation development in Nebraska, and the Grand Coullee Dam in the Columbia river basin of Washington.

Many of the bids in both cases, said Mr. Ickes, were identical. However, in each case at least one bidder submitted different and lower figures, and the contracts were awarded.

Former Ambassador Straus Taken by Pneumonia

JESSE ISADOR STRAUS, merchant prince and, until his resignation last August, American ambassador to France, passed away in his New York home at the age of sixty-four. The immediate cause of death was pneumonia, but Mr. Straus had been in ill health for some time, this being the reason for his retirement from the ambassadorship.

Jesse I. Straus

Graduating from Harvard in 1893, Mr. Straus began work as a bank clerk. In 1896 he obtained employment with R. H. Macy & Co., big New York department store, and by 1919 was its president, holding that position until he was given the Paris post by President Roosevelt in 1933. He was a Democrat and was a member of the board of overseers of Harvard and of the American Academy of Political and Social Science. He maintained a country estate at Mount Kisco, N. Y., as well as a city apartment.

Italy's Cabinet Votes to Devalue the Lira

FOLLOWING the example set by France and other countries, the Italian cabinet voted to devalue the lira, setting its value at approximately 5.2 cents, as compared with the latest previous figure of 7.6 cents. The cabinet also let it be known that it would take action to prevent rent and price increases; and it voted a new 5 per cent capital levy to which property owners are obliged to subscribe to the extent of 5 per cent of their wealth.

The gold value of the lira was placed at 4.677 grams of gold for each 100 lire. Gold reserves of the Bank of Italy will be revalued on the basis of the new lira with the surplus to be placed at the disposition of the treasury.

French Communists and Fascists Clash

FRANCE may be on the verge of a civil war between Communists and Fascists comparable to the terrible conflict in Spain. In Paris desperate fighting already has begun. The Reds, numbering many thousands, and the nationalists, under orders from Col. Francois de la Rocque whose Croix de Feux organization was disbanded by the government, undertook rival demonstrations; and the result was a day-long series of street battles in which hundreds were wounded. Order was finally restored for the time being by a force of 12,000 republican guards and police.

The Nationalist-rightists said the fighting "was only beginning." Troubles resulting from devaluation of the franc would be severe and numerous, they predicted. Leftists charged the battles were part of a rightist plot to provoke trouble for the Socialist government.

In London, also, there was a big riot in which a hundred persons were injured. Sir Oswald Mosley's Black Shirts, a Fascist organization, planned a parade but Communists and Socialists numbering 100,000 were determined to prevent it and battled with a big force of east end police to get at their enemies. The authorities forbade the parade as scheduled but the opposing mobs got together in various localities and fought desperately. Sir Oswald issued a statement charging that the "British government has openly surrendered to Red terror."

Madrid Claims Victories Over the Insurgents

THOUGH the capture of Toledo by the Spanish insurgents was a severe blow for the government, it by no means ended the civil war. Madrid announces that one of the loyalist columns broke the rebel line that almost surrounded the capital and re-took the important junction town of Maqueda. An army of loyalists miners was reported to have reached the outskirts of Oviedo, and reinforcements for the Madrid garrison were on their way from Asturias province and from Valencia. The government forces also were said to have taken the important town of Motrico on the Bay of Biscay.

Gen. Francisco Franco, chief of the insurgents, decreed a Fascist dictatorship and created a "junta of state" which will govern subject to his will. In his first statement of policy, Franco assured workers they would be "protected against the ills of capitalism" and that "steps would be taken to regulate favorable working hours."

"All Spaniards will be obliged to work according to their capacity," he said. "In the new state no parasitical citizens will be permitted."

Bleakley and Lehman for New York Governorship

REPUBLICANS and Democrats of New York state met in convention at Albany and Syracuse respectively, selected their state tickets and started on a hot campaign. The Republicans entered the fight under a new leader for they named William F. Bleakley of Yonkers, Supreme court justice, for the governorship. The fifty-two-year-old jurist prepared to resign from the bench and take command at once.

William F. Bleakley

Col. Ralph K. Robertson of Buffalo was nominated for lieutenant governor, Nathan D. Perlman of New York city for attorney general and John A. May, Gloversville, for comptroller.

The convention at its evening session heard Col. Frank Knox, Republican vice presidential candidate, in a strong attack on the New Deal.

The Democrats renominated Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, and his candidacy was warmly espoused by President Roosevelt, who went to Syracuse to deliver his first speech as an avowed candidate. The President took occasion to deny again that he seeks Communist support and alleged that issue was a "red herring" dragged across the trail by his opponents.

Al Smith Comes Out for Gov. Landon

FRANK KNOX, President Roosevelt and Al Smith, all on the air the same evening, provided a political feast for radio listeners. Colonel Knox, speaking at Pittsburgh, reiterated and substantiated his former assertion that New Deal financial policies were imperiling savings accounts and insurance policies. Mr. Roosevelt, not so eloquent as usual, defended the spending policies of his administration. He, too, spoke at Pittsburgh. The high spot of the evening came at the close of Al Smith's address to a women's organization in New York city. He had been treating of the New Deal and its leaders with biting sarcasm and wound up with the dramatic declaration:

"I firmly believe that the remedy for all the ills that we are suffering from today is the election of Alfred M. Landon."

Frankfort, Ky., Celebrates Its Sesquicentennial

RESIDENTS of Frankfort, Ky., stopped work and politics for three days and, with thousands of guests, celebrated the sesquicentennial of their city. A pioneer touch was given the affair by the arrival of many families from other parts of Kentucky in horse-drawn vehicles and on horseback. There were historical parades and services, an old fashioned burgoo feast, and a formal banquet at which addresses were delivered by Admiral Hugh Rodman of the navy and Governor Chandler of Kentucky.

"Windfall" Tax Case to Be Decided by Courts

IN WHAT was said by court attaches to be the first important ruling anywhere on numerous suits filed by packing companies and others against government collection of the "windfall" tax, Judge Robert C. Baltzell of the United States district court at Indianapolis, overruled the government's motion to dismiss a suit for an injunction filed by Kingan and Company, meat packers.

Supreme Court May Pass on Wagner Labor Act

APPEALS filed by the national labor relations board offer the Supreme court five new opportunities to pass on the constitutionality of the Wagner labor relations act. The board asked the high tribunal to review rulings in a case involving the Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation of Pittsburgh, two involving the Freuhauf Trailer company of Canton, Ohio, and two affecting the Friedman-Harry Marks Clothing company, New York.

Flattering Matron Frock

1841-B

This frock is the eighth wonder of the world. Just imagine only four major pieces to cut and sew and you've completed a frock that renders a becoming, chic, and flattering appearance to a size 34 or 46.

It has clever short sleeves, that can be supplanted by long ones, scalloped blouse opening and the kind of collar that echoes the admiring "ahs" of your neighbors. The dress is dart fitted at the waist and shoulders for ease and a slimming effect, while a self-fabric belt adds its contribution too. You want to own this thoroughly young style and attractive model that's as easy to make as to look at don't you? Here's your opportunity, order this debonair model today. It's irresistible indeed.

Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1841-B is available for sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46. Size 36 requires four and one-eighth yards with long sleeves; and three and three-fourths yards of 39 inch material with short sleeves. Price of pattern, 15 cents.

Send for the Barbara Bell Fall Pattern Book containing 100 well-planned, easy-to-make patterns. Exclusive fashions for children, young women, and matrons. Send fifteen cents for your copy.

Send your order to The Sewing Circle Pattern Dept., 149 New Montgomery Ave., San Francisco, Calif.

© Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

Old as Methuselah

The oldest chartered industrial concern in the world is the copper mine at Falun, in Dalecarlia, one of Sweden's most picturesque regions for travelers. The mine has been under the same continuous ownership since 1220, and so much ore has been taken from it that its excavations would hold the Cheops Pyramid.

Montezuma Mountain School

FOR BOYS

A private school of distinction, a school where character, health and high scholastic training produce the Ideal of a well balanced education.

PRIMARY—ELEMENTARY
HIGH SCHOOL—NON-SECTARIAN
NON-MILITARY

Accredited to California, Stanford and leading Eastern and Mid-western Universities.

• Outdoor Sports the year round •

For further information, address

E. A. Rogers, Headmaster, Box 246
MONTEZUMA MOUNTAIN SCHOOL
Los Gatos, California

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

REMEDIES

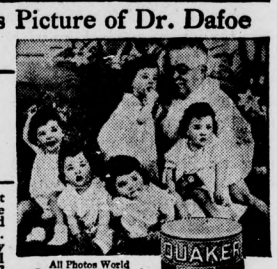
Indian Herb Compound—Roots, herbs, leaves, seeds, bark, berries, licorice, flowers. For kidneys, billiousness and acid stomach from constipation, gas, etc. Amazing results. Large $2.50 trial package for $1 postpaid. THOMAS O'FALLON, Raton, N. M.

INSTRUCTION

Instruction. Shoat Farm, Taxidermy. Valuable formulas. Tanning Hides, Distemper, Mange Cures. All 25c stamps. BUDMAN LAMB, 133 East Jefferson, Detroit, Mich.

FREE! $24,600 WORTH OF WONDERFUL GIFTS

. . . Just for Naming This Picture of Dr. Dafoe and the Dionne Quins



4,168 DIFFERENT GIFTS!
6 CHEVROLET SEDANS
42 FRIGIDAIRES
120 RCA RADIOS
1,000 CASH AWARDS OF $2 EACH
3,000 CASH AWARDS OF $1 EACH

All Photos World Copyright 1936, N. E. A. Service, Inc.

● Today, more than ever, the healthy, robust Dionne Quins are a glorious tribute to the finest methods of child-raising. Today, and every day the Dionne Quins have Quaker Oats. To bring this fact to the attention of every mother, Quaker Oats is making a sensational offer of $24,600.00 worth of wonderful FREE GIFTS! . . . Just for the most original suitable names for this picture of Dr. Dafoe and the Dionne Quins, Quaker is offering 4,168 gorgeous prizes—6 Chevrolet Sedans, 42 Frigidaires, 120 RCA Radios, 1,000 prizes of $2 in cash, and 3,000 prizes of $1 in cash! Half of these will be awarded on October 30th, 1936, the other half on December 15, 1936. . . . Your grocer has all the details of this sensational offer. See him today and find out how to enter . . . it may mean a wonderful free gift for you!

See Your Grocer for Details of How to Win One of These Wonderful Free Gifts!

TED LAUNCHES A NEW SHIP

DADDY, PLEASE HELP US BUILD OUR BOAT—IT'S FOR THE SHIP MODEL CONTEST AT SCHOOL NEXT MONTH!
STOP BOTHERING ME! CAN'T YOU SEE I'M TRYING TO READ?
BET THEIR MOTHER PUT THEM UP TO THIS! SHE CAN'T BEAR TO SEE YOU SITTING AROUND ENJOYING YOURSELF!
MR. COFFEE-NERVES
HEY! STOP THAT HAMMERING! WHY DOES THIS HOUSE HAVE TO SOUND LIKE A BOILER FACTORY ALL THE TIME?
THIS WHOLE FAMILY MUST SPEND ALL WEEK THINKING UP WAYS TO ANNOY YOU ON SUNDAY!
MR. COFFEE-NERVES
IF YOU WON'T HELP THE BOYS WITH THEIR BOAT, AT LEAST YOU MIGHT LET THEM WORK ON IT! YOU TOLD THEM TO!
THERE YOU GO! NEVER THINK OF ME, DO YOU? YOU KNOW I'VE GOT A SPLITTING HEADACHE!
WHAT DOES SHE CARE HOW BADLY YOU FEEL—JUST SO SHE CAN KEEP THOSE BOYS BUSY AND OUT OF HER WAY?
MR. COFFEE-NERVES
IF YOU'D CUT OUT COFFEE AND SWITCH TO POSTUM, AS THE DOCTOR ADVISED, I'M SURE YOU'D FEEL BETTER—
OH, ALL RIGHT, I WILL! JUST TO SHOW YOU THERE'S NOTHING IN THIS COFFEE-NERVES BUNK!
CURSES! I'M SUNK! POSTUM ALWAYS DRIVES ME OUT!
Paul ARTHUR
30 DAYS LATER
THERE! SHE'S ALL FINISHED! AND IN TIME FOR THE CONTEST, TOO. BET WE WIN A PRIZE WITH THIS ONE, EH, BOYS?
DAD DESERVES A PRIZE ANYWAY—HE'S BEEN A PRETTY FINE FATHER SINCE HE SWITCHED TO POSTUM!

OF COURSE, children should never drink coffee. And many grown-ups, too, find that the caffein in coffee disagrees with them. If you have headaches or indigestion or can't sleep soundly . . . try Postum. It contains no caffein. It is simply whole wheat and bran, roasted and slightly sweetened.

You may miss coffee at first, but after 30 days you'll love Postum for its own rich, satisfying flavor. Postum comes in two forms—Postum Cereal, the kind you boil, and Instant Postum, made instantly in the cup. Either way it is easy to make, delicious, economical, and may prove a real help. A product of General Foods.

FREE—Let us send you your first week's supply of Postum free! Simply mail coupon. © 1936, G. F. CORP.

GENERAL FOODS, Battle Creek, Mich. W-SF 10-17-36
Send me, without obligation, a week's supply of ☐ Instant Postum ☐ Postum Cereal (check kind you prefer).

Name _____

Street _____

City _____ State _____

Fill in completely, print names and address.
If you live in Canada, address: General Foods, Ltd., Cobourg, Ont. (Offer expires July 1, 1937.)

Born to Succeed

Whatever your sex or position, life is a battle in which you are to show your pluck; and woe be to the coward. Despair and postponement are cowardice and defeat. Men are born to succeed, not to fail.—Thoreau.

BOYS! GIRLS!

Read the Grape Nuts ad in another column of this paper and learn how to join the Dizzy Dean Winners and win valuable free prizes.—Adv.

Beware of the Bad

A good driver must not expect too many others to be.

Now Ease Neuritis Pains Fast

Bayer Tablets Dissolve Almost Instantly

In 2 seconds by stop watch, a genuine BAYER Aspirin tablet starts to disintegrate and go to work. Drop a Bayer Aspirin tablet into a glass of water. By the time it hits the bottom of the glass it is disintegrating. What happens in this glass . . . happens in your stomach.

For Amazingly Quick Relief Get Genuine Bayer Aspirin

If you suffer from pains of neuritis what you want is quick relief.

Genuine Bayer Aspirin tablets give quick relief, for one reason, because they dissolve or disintegrate almost instantly they touch moisture. (Note illustration above.)

Hence — when you take a real Bayer Aspirin tablet it starts to dissolve almost as quickly as you swallow it. And thus is ready to start working almost instantly . . . headaches, neuralgia and neuritis pains start easing almost at once.

That's why millions never ask for aspirin by the name aspirin alone when they buy, but always say "BAYER ASPIRIN" and see that they get it.

Try it. You'll say it's marvelous.

15c FOR A DOZEN
2 FULL DOZEN 25c
Virtually 1c a tablet

LOOK FOR THE BAYER CROSS

But a Virtue

Meekness is the weakest of the virtues.

SOUR STOMACH?

Relief in 2 Minutes

What is more uncomfortable than a sour stomach with the resulting bloating, gas pains, belching, and headaches? It's a pity to suffer this distress when you can usually get relief—often in two minutes—at your druggist!

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, known 40 years as the easy, pleasant way to relieve stomach distress due to excess acidity. Said to be 2½ times as effective as soda, these harmless tablets are a pleasant combination of Magnesia and Calcium Carbonate with other ingredients that make an effective anti-acid. Non-habit forming. Satisfaction guaranteed or your money back. Why suffer? Get a box today!

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS

Tempered Optimism

The true optimism is one that is tempered.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with anything less than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble to aid nature to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

Miserable with backache?

WHEN kidneys function badly and you suffer a nagging backache, with dizziness, burning, scanty or too frequent urination and getting up at night, when you feel tired, nervous, all upset . . . use Doan's Pills.

Doan's are especially for poorly working kidneys. Millions of boxes are used every year. They are recommended the country over. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

Gunlock Ranch

By FRANK H. SPEARMAN

COPYRIGHT FRANK H. SPEARMAN W.N.U. SERVICE

CHAPTER VIII—Continued

—10—

"That's part of what he's done to me. He's stole my cattle besides. McCrossen is the only man that stayed by me through thick and thin. McCrossen's the right man for you. You can get married tomorrow if you want to."

"I haven't the slightest idea of getting married tomorrow, father. And if Mr. McCrossen were the only man left, I certainly should never marry. There's not a straight hair in his head."

"Sounds like that skunk Denison's been filling your ears for you."

"Bill Denison's barely ever mentioned McCrossen's name to me."

"Well, keep away from Denison for good, don't forget that."

Jane flinched inwardly but spoke low and clearly: "I can't promise that, father."

"Why not?"

"I don't think it's right."

"Ain't I your father?"

"Yes."

"Ain't a parent a-goin' to be obeyed?"

"If he is reasonable. I'm not a child, father."

He grew furious. "I don't give a damn what you are, you're not goin' to take up with any enemy of mine, 'n' you might just as well know it now—and I'll see that you don't."

Van Tambel, quitting the house, rode with McCrossen, over the hills burned the day before, to determine what further measures should be taken to insure safety for the ranch buildings. The two men halted at the foot of Gunlock Knob.

"A lot of good timber gone in that blaze, Van," muttered McCrossen.

Van Tambel was silent for a moment. "The ranch ain't worth as much as it was yesterday, that's sure," he said at last. Then after another pause: "I wouldn't mind the timber if the damned fire had held on till it cleaned out Denison."

Both were looking down on the neighbor's ranch.

"I wish I was rid of that fellow." Van Tambel's words fairly grated out of his harsh throat. "Why couldn't that blamed fire have cleaned out his buildings yesterday?"

"It was a close scratch. If the wind had shifted—"

"Always blows the wrong way for me. I don't mind losing the timber. If it had caught him, I'd—" He checked himself suddenly. "Look here," he jerked, why can't we help the wind along next night there's a blow—just give things a start down there?"

"What d'you mean? Burn him out?"

"Why not?"

McCrossen took the cigarette from his mouth but said nothing.

"Well?" sputtered Van Tambel. "Why don't you talk?"

"I don't fancy that kind of a job."

McCrossen shifted moodily in his saddle. "Bill Denison and I have got our differences—plenty of 'em. Some day I expect to iron 'em out with him. But it'll be done in daylight."

Van Tambel sneered. "Look out he don't get you and the girl both."

"Well"—the words came reluctantly—"I'll talk to Barney Rebstock. You'll have to pay him well."

After Van Tambel came back from the hospital, he reopened his office in Sleepy Cat.

"I thought you said the old devil couldn't get well," complained Pardaloe to Dr. Carpy.

Carpy was laconic. "He can't. Some day he'll crack up sudden."

But Van Tambel kept Jane so closely under his eye that she had no chance to see Denison.

One day her father took her in town on business. The volunteer fire fighters were clamoring for their pay, and Jane, knowing the details of the agreement with Pardaloe as to how much beer and "grub" should be provided, plus their pay, rode with her father, to town, to settle with Pardaloe.

"Bill," she said to Pardaloe, when the accounts had been straightened out, "I want to ask a question and I want the truth."

Pardaloe looked at her with shrewd benevolence. "Fire away, girl!"

"Why does my father hate Bill Denison so?"

Pardaloe shifted uneasily. "You won't like the truth, Miss Jane."

"Whether I like it or not, I want you to tell me, Bill," she said.

"Well, your dad wants the Spring ranch—started a fight for it at the Medicine Bend land office. Bill beat him there, so he goes up to Washington, and Bill has to sell off his cows to get money to fight and pay lawyers. 'Fore he got through, the boy had to sell everything to keep his end up."

"It was tough," assented Jane grimly. Her eyes were half closed and her lips compressed, as if to shut out unpleasant details.

Pardaloe warmed to his story. "If it wa'n't you, Miss Jane, an' your own dad, I'd call a man that'd act that way—well, wonder to me is, Bill never plugged him. Now don't cry; I told you you wouldn't like it."

Jane shook her head and brushed the tears from her eyes with a gesture of defiance. "Don't mind a little shower, Bill. You've told me what I asked for—the truth. Now I want to tell you something. But please keep my secret—will you, Bill?"

"Shoot," was all he said.

Swiftly she told him of her first meeting with Denison, and of their rides together. She described how he had saved her life and how afterward her father had ridden over to the Denison ranch with Dave McCrossen, created a scene and forbade her ever again to see Denison.

"I'm watched now like a two-year-old child," she concluded, "and I'm rebellious!"

Pardaloe looked at her appraisingly. He observed the animation of her manner and the flash of her eye; he listened to the rapid flow of her words and the spirited way in which he spoke them. The old frontiersman looked at her as an artist might look on a flower; he could see, but couldn't quite understand, all that was hidden within it.

"I wish," said Jane, musing, almost as much to herself as to Pardloe, "I knew just what to do."

"Do nothin'," suggested Pardaloe.

Jane bridled. "Do nothing! That isn't very pleasant to think about."

"You've got to realize your circumstances," he returned. "In the mess you're in all around out there, it's best for you to sit tight 'n' do nothin'. You don't know it, but you're settin' on a box of dynamite."

"Do you expect me to act as peacemaker, Bill?"

"I didn't say that—'twouldn't be no sort of use. There'll be peace there when bobcats go back on jack rabbits."

"Well," sighed Jane, reluctant, "you know best, Mr. Pardaloe—"

"Bill."

"You know best, Bill. I may want to talk to you again."

"Any time, honey."

Riding home with her father, who rode slowly, she had plenty of time to think. And her thoughts were sober-hued.

McCrossen was a thorn in her side. To meet him every day and be halfway pleasant was a daily strain.

He tried to make up to her. "I got off on the wrong foot with you, Jane," he said one day. The two were standing near the ranch-house door, in the sunshine. "I know that, all right. All I can say is, if there's anythin' I can do to square myself, I'm ready to do it whenever you say the word. Is that fair?"

Jane was looking up at the mountains. She answered without rancor; a mild manner must be her cue now.

A week passed. Van Tambel lay in bed. He had to send Jane to Medicine Bend to attend to some bank business there. To keep her under surveillance, Van Tambel ordered McCrossen to ride to Sleepy Cat with her. When Jane heard of the arrangements she flatly refused to go.

"What's a-matter with you, you damned cantankerous thing!" demanded her father huskily. "Ain't my foreman good enough for you to ride with?"

Jane's features set. "I won't ride with him," she declared crisply.

"Why not?" thundered her father, rising in bed.

Jane drew herself up the least bit. Her father's rudeness stiffened her attitude. "If you want to know the real reason, I don't want him trying to kiss me on the way home after he's had too many drinks in the Red Front saloon. I won't ride with him. If he goes, I don't."

Finally Bull Page was assigned to escort the wayward Jane, and the two set off for town. Jane was most interested to get some news from Bull Page about Denison; but Bull had neither seen nor heard of him since the Gunlock Knob fire.

In Medicine Bend, Jane extended a note, drew some money, paid the hospital bills, and waited for the afternoon train home. When she got to Sleepy Cat it was ten o'clock at night, and no rig was at the station from the ranch. She was compelled to spend the night at the hotel. It was a long time afterward before she realized that the whole trip had been planned by her father and McCrossen for a purpose.

She rose early, breakfasted alone, and started out to pay the few remaining fire bills. She went first to Spott's place to pay for the beer. Spotts was out. "Ought to be back pretty soon," said Oscar. "He's got to be here pretty soon to let the bartender out for breakfast."

"I've an order to leave at Rubido's," said Jane. "I'll be back." She walked over to the general store, left her provision order for the wagon to pick up, and returned to Spott's barber shop. Jake, his crutches at his side, was sitting in his barber chair.

"Hello there, Miss! Well! How's things out at Gunlock?"

"About as usual, Jake. I've come to pay for the beer."

"No more fires botherin'?"

"Not at present. How much was the beer?"

"No hurry about that."

"Yes, but I want to clean it up."

"Thank you, ma'am," said the saloon keeper and barber as Jane counted out and handed him the money. "If I could only call my old side partner back out of it,"—Spotts shook his head.

"None of us will ever forget Panama, Jake."

"The damnedest, meanest, orneriest fires that ever swept them hills," said Spotts, counting over the money perfunctorily. "Done more damage to the range—not to speak of losin' the best man we had in Sleepy Cat and cripplin' up the best man we had in the hills."

"Some Day I Expect to Iron 'Em Out With Him."

"Who was that, Jake?"

"Why, Bill Denison."

Jane started visibly. "Bill Denison?" she echoed in consternation. "What do you mean?"

"Well, you know he's in the hospital."

"I know nothing of the kind," exclaimed Jane sharply. She stood white as a sheet. "What has happened? Tell me!"

"Why, didn't you know his eyes is gone to hell?"

"What do you mean? What has happened? Tell me!"

Spotts started violently out of his torpor as he saw with amazement the effect of his news on his visitor. "Why, Doc. Carpy says that his eyes got burned some gettin' through that Gunlock Knob fire. Then some son—" Jake checked himself. "Somebody set his ranch house afire last night and nearly burned him up. Ask Carpy; he'll tell you."

She hurried to the hotel. The doctor was out on a call. Jane hurried to McAlpin's barn, where she had left her pony, and rode straight up the hill to the hospital.

CHAPTER IX

"WHERE is he, Sister?"

"His room is on the second floor—218. Shall I show you the way?"

"If you please, Sister. I learned only a moment ago that he was here. I've heard of this dreadful ranch-house fire only this minute. Did he tell you how it happened, Sister?"

"He has hardly spoken since they brought him in. But Mr. Scott said it was getting out of the burning ranch house."

"Do you think there is any chance to save his sight? Oh, Sister, can you imagine how I feel?"

"Dear heart, I do know how you feel. Of course I don't know a thing about the case, except that Dr. Carpy has given very strict orders about his care." She was too considerate to tell how worried she knew Carpy to be. "Of course his room is dark. And his eyes are bandaged. We like Mr. Denison so much—he's always been so kind to us with nice gifts. This is his room." The nurse laid her hand on the knob of the door. "Shall I go in with you?"

"Do, Sister," said Jane.

Sister opened the door. "Good morning, Mr. Denison."

"Good morning, Sister."

Jane, walking in on tiptoe behind her guide, heard his answer.

"Who's that with you, Sister?" Jane had stepped as lightly as possible; but his ears had detected her footsteps.

"I've brought you a visitor. I hope you're not cross," she added, banteringly.

"Who is visiting me?" he asked.

Jane had been gradually drawing closer to him. "Bill?"

He started violently. For an instant he was silent as if listening for more. Then he responded, low and strangely, "Jane?"

"Yes, Bill."

In the dark, her hand touched his arm. He caught both her hands, crushing them with his own, and drew one and the other hungrily to his lips. "Sister," he said, composed, yet eager, "can you find a chair, in the dark, for Miss Van Tambel?"

With the nurse gliding out of the room, Jane's hands crept over his shoulders, around his neck, and as his arms enfolded her, their lips met.

"I didn't want you to hear that I was in trouble till we knew more about it. How did you find out I was here, Jane?"

"Jake Spotts, Bill. I never dreamed of such a thing," she said tremulously. "He told me the ranch house was burned last night. Oh, Bill!"

"I think maybe my eyes will be all right in a couple of days. Ben Page has been working for me for a while. He got hold of Bob Scott to bring me in to see Doc Carpy—and the doctor sent me here." He felt her warm tears against his cheek. He kissed them away from her eyes. "Don't cry! There's nothing to cry over. I'll be all right when my eyes get better. Doctor says that won't be long. I wish you hadn't heard of it."

"I wish you'd never heard of me, Bill. To think of it, that I should have been the cause of starting all this trouble. Oh, why couldn't I have stayed home that dreadful day instead of riding into danger? I'll never, never forgive myself. And I'm ashamed to say it, Bill, but the real reason I rode up there was because I was just hungry for a sight of you."

Denison only laughed. "Don't think you're the only one that was hungry for a sight. If I hadn't been scouting around the Knob trail where I knew you liked so much to ride, I'd never have caught sight of you. What then? Why, Jane, if you were burning in a fire, why shouldn't I jump in after you? What would be left for me?"

"Do your eyes hurt terribly, Bill?"

"Not when you're here, Jane."

"Oh, I know better. I know they do. And I can do nothing to help!"

He made light of her worry. There were more furtive tears, more earnest prayers, more submission from Jane. More happy laughs, more ardent embraces, more carefree cheer from Denison.

"Why, Bill," she protested at length, "one would think there was nothing the matter with you. And I am frightened to death."

"I was frightened to death myself till you came. It's not much fun sitting alone here in the dark. What frightens me most is the thought that if the worst should come, I'd lose you."

"You can never lose me, Bill. Remember that."

"Yes, but a blind man!" he exclaimed desperately. "Jane, I never could ask you to marry me blind—"

"There's only one way to keep me from marrying that good-for-nothing Bill Denison—that's to kill me and make me into dust—even then, I'd tremble under his feet. I would—just to annoy him."

Her tongue was light and happy when she said good-by, but her heart was dread with fear. She rode straight to Carpy's office; luckily she found him in.

"Doctor! I'm so worried about Mr. Denison—"

"So am I."

"You know what happened?"

"Said he got trapped in the ranch-house fire."

"Yes, but it was trying to save my life when his eyes first got hurt."

"Never said a blamed word about that."

"I was up on Gunlock Knob, and he rode up to get me through the fire. "Doctor," she asked, unsteadily, "can't you save his eyes?"

"Jane, my girl, give me another two weeks. If I thought anybody, anywhere, would do anything more than I'm doing, I'd put him on the cars tonight. It's time, Jane, time."

If Jane expected to get much information about the Denison fire at home, she was disappointed. When she reported it to her father, he was silent—professing still to feel outraged at her insubordination. McCrossen was more communicative, even sympathetic; but he knew little about the fire.

(TO BE CONTINUED)

See in Different Directions

The curious little reptile that is noted for changing its color to suit its background, the chameleon, and the small oddly shaped fish known as the hippocampus or sea-horse, have one peculiar characteristic in common. Their eyes move independently of each other. When a chameleon gets one eye focused on an insect it moves the other eye until it, too, is focused on the prospective prey. Then it darts out its long, sticky tongue to make the catch. Persons observing sea horses in aquariums have noted that their two eyes appeared to be looking in opposite directions.—Detroit News.

Floats 6,500 Miles

Floating 6,500 miles in five years, a bottle has been picked up in the Bahamas and returned to the navy hydrographic officer at Washington for record-making purposes. It was thrown into the sea off the coast of Virginia in 1930. Hydrographers say that in its journeys, the bottle has twice crossed the Atlantic.

Week's Supply of Postum Free

Read the offer made by the Postum Company in another part of this paper. They will send a full week's supply of health giving Postum free to anyone who writes for it.—Adv.

Reason Enough

Man is the only animal that blushes. The other animals don't need to.

If You're Told to "Alkalize"

Try This Remarkable "Phillips" Way Thousands are Adopting

On every side today people are being urged to alkalize their stomach. And thus ease symptoms of "acid indigestion," nausea and stomach upsets.

To gain quick alkalization, just do this: Take two teaspoons of PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA 30 minutes after eating. OR — take two Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets, which have the same antacid effect.

Relief comes almost at once — usually in a few minutes. Nausea, "gas" — fullness after eating and "acid indigestion" pains leave. You feel like a new person.

Try this way. You'll be surprised at results. Get either the liquid "Phillips" or the remarkable, new Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets. Delightful to take and easy to carry with you. Only 25¢ a box at all drug stores.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM:

Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA

ITCHING SCALP— DANDRUFF

For annoying itching and unsightly Dandruff, use Glover's. Start today with Glover's Mange Medicine and follow with Glover's Medicated Soap for the shampoo. Sold by all Druggists.

GLOVER'S MANGE MEDICINE

Faith's Work

Faith may create mountains as well as move them.

GOT A BOIL?

You've got a boil—it hurts—and you want relief. Try Carboil, the great American salve, and if not satisfied after using as directed, your money refunded. At your druggist, or write Spurlock-Neal Co., Nashville, Tenn.

WNU—12 42—36

UNIQUE FOR REAL CONVENIENCE

● Whether you visit San Francisco for fun or for finance, for business or for pleasure, you'll be amazed and pleased to find a great hotel covering two acres where five principal streets meet—the famous Palace Hotel. Here the financial, shopping, theatre, and wholesale districts meet—literally!

600 rooms, each with bath, from $3 per day (single) up.

The PALACE HOTEL

"In the Heart of San Francisco"

Archibald H. Price, Manager

The Campbell Press and Valley Echo
Published Every Thursday at Campbell, Calif., by
HARRY C. SMITH
William Olsen ..... Advertising Director

Entered as second class matter Sept. 30, 1904, at the Postoffice at Campbell, Calif., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.
Sub. $1.50 year in advance. Ad. Rates on Request

JAPAN AND OUR FUTURE

A sharp warning to Japan that the United States will match her, fort for fort, if she starts a fortifications race in the Pacific, crackled out of Washington last week.

While it may have sounded unduly belligerant, the purpose of the warning was, of course, to prevent such a race. Japan has already indicated that she will balk at renewal of the fortifications clause of the Washington naval treaty. And that expires Dec. 31.

This is another revealing tip on our probable future policy in the Pacific. We are already committed to playing a lone hand, having not forgotten how England and the rest deserted us when we counted on cooperative pressure against Japan in Manchuria in 1931.

Now it appears it's to be a forceful hand as well, at least verbally. The kind of language that says, 'You fortify, and we'll go you one better,'' is the only kind, at present, that Japan understands. And until such time as Japan shows herself ready to make treaties and respect them, this will probably continue to be the United States' policy. Apparently it is the only way to work for peace in the Pacific, and to discourage the erection of forts and bristling armaments that tip the scales toward war.

President Theodore Roosevelt, if you recall, once said: ''I believe that our future history will be more determined by our position on the Pacific, facing China, than by our position on the Atlantic facing Europe.''

That position can develop properly only if peace is maintained. America's future hangs in the balance. And so, even more directly, does the future of California.

* * * * *

LINDBERGH'S RETURN

Colonel Lindbergh and his family intend to remain in England ''indefinitely.'' That was the word brought back the other day by Mrs. Morrow, Mrs. Lindbergh's mother, on her return from a visit abroad.

It was a news story printed over the nation. America's interest in ''Lindy'' has not flagged, and people are wondering how long ''indefinitely'' means.

Perhaps a combination of circumstances will bring the Lindberghs home sooner than that word might indicate. The tragedy of their kidnapped child, the raucous trial that followed, and later threats against their second son—these bitter memories fade farther into the past. Then too. since they left the G-men have pretty thoroughly wiped out what remained of the kidnapping racket in America. With each passing day that danger becomes more remote.

And although not a ''happy'' circumstance, there is always the imminent possibility that the powder keg of war will explode suddenly in Europe. Should that happen, the Colonel and his family, only too happy still to be American citizens, would doubtless hustle home in a hurry. England will be bombed and gassed often in the next war.

The very fact that there is no public resentment at his choice to live abroad, after the tragic kidnap experience, is in itself a tribute to Lindbergh. An even greater tribute is the fact that America will welcome the day when the Lindberghs come back to this country to stay.

* * * * *

THRIFT—BUSINESS AND PERSONAL

Ask yourself this question: ''Would the depression have been more disastrous had not many families and individuals had savings when the crash came?''

There is only one answer. No one argues against thrift—against building up personal savings ''for a rainy day.'' We all know that savings come in handy in lean years.

If this principle is sound for personal savings, it is equally as sound for corporate savings. Yet there are many who are objecting to corporate surpluses and arguing that these surpluses are in the form of hoards of cash lying idle, unused and unproductive.

Actually, the great bulk of corporation surpluses are not held in cash at all, but in the form of property and productive assets. Perhaps the term 'surplus'' is misleading, and it might be well to make the actual meaning of the term more clear in financial statements.

Corporation surpluses are not held in in the form of cash to any considerable degree, but are more often the certain parts of corporation income which is 'plowed back'' into the business so that the business may expand and operate more efficiently. The years 1922 to 1930 saw only 2 to 3½ per cent of the business income of the country held in reserve.

As a matter of fact, it is fortunate that business had the opportunity to build surpluses during the nine years preceding the depression, because from 1930 to 1934 inclusive American business paid out 27 billion dollars more than it took in.

Business spent a big part of its surplus to maintain wages and keep men on the job during the years when the actual current business income was far lower than the level represented by the actual money spent by business.

Savings by companies should be encouraged just as much as savings by individuals. They serve as insurance against the ''rainy day'' in our business life.

LETTUCE AND ACCIDENTS

Lettuce, that golden crop over which there has been so much trouble in Salinas, plays an important part in preventing auto accidents at night.

It sounds incredible, yet—but it's true. You see lettuce is one of the green vegetables richest in vitamin A, which is also present in milk and butter. A deficiency of vitamin A results in a curious disease known as ''hemeralopia.''

Although you may have it without knowing so, hemeralopia so affects the eyes that one cannot distinguish persons or objects on a dimly lighted street or road at night. And a person so afflicted is of course a menace at the wheel of an auto after dark.

Ordinary eye tests don't reveal the condition. It takes a special instrument called a ''photo meter.'' Unfortunately, few if any motor vehicle departments have such a device with which to test drivers having a record of night accidents. If you know any such, you might advise them to increase their intake of vitamin A.

It is entirely possible that the trouble in California lettuce, causing a shortage, has contributed to a night accident or so in New York. Which just goes to show how any one factor may have singularly remote effects in this complicated existence of ours.

* * * * *

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS TWICE

Have you forgotten?

It was back in 1927, and the legislature had just created a California Park commission, and a great new task lay ahead.

In the commission's first report, late in 1928, were these words:

''The importance of this whole park movement which the last legislature so wisely inaugurated and which the people of the state have so overwhelmingly approved, cannot be overestimated. California, because of its natural and scenic resources, is one of the most favored states in the Union. A great opportunity is now open to preserve the best of these resources . . . . . ''

The commission took that opportunity. California now has 70 of the finest state parks in the world. But 55 more are planned.

Today that same commission, with its funds virtually exhausted, awaits the verdict of the people on an initiative called Proposition 4, which, if passed, will replenish park funds with royalties from state-owned oil. Again the commission speaks, this time in a resolution:

''And be it further resolved that we, the members of the California State Park commission, do unanimously endorse and recommend this initiative measure to the voters of the state for favorable vote in November.''

Opportunity knocks again. But this time the opportunity is ours.

Argentine Corn Floods Docks on Pacific Coast

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—Corn from the Argentine, at the rate of 20 million pounds a week, is coming into Los Angeles harbor, Tom Erwin, former president of the Los Angeles County farm bureau, said here.

Twenty tramp steamers are now under charter to bring 150,000 tons of Argentine corn to San Pedro in the next three months, bringing the total since Jan. 1, 1935, to 10,714,286 bushels, Mr. Erwin said.

"At the current price of Argentine corn delivered at the Harbor, this represents a loss to Americans producing and handling corn of $23,571,427," he said.

"A Greek tramp steamer, the Mount Cynthos, last week unloaded 7,200 tons of corn from the Argentine at the Harbor. The 257,155 bushels in this one shipment would have required 10,791 acres of American farm land to produce and would have given employment to 259 persons.

"The total amount of South American corn which has been imported or bought for delivery since the beginning of this movement would have put 449,609 acres of land in cultivation in this country and would have employed 24,708 people on the farms."

With Mr. Roosevelt's crop curtailment in effect, imports of corn last year were 123 times as large as in 1932.

Insurance Congress Fears Roosevelt Financial Policy

NEW YORK.—Alarmed by the financial policies of the Roosevelt administration which "seriously impair income necessary for the security of life insurance reserves" the National Fraternal Congress of America recently went on record as opposed to these policies.

Representing five million holders of fraternal insurance policies in America valued at five billion dollars, the congress passed the resolution without a dissenting vote:

"Unless the administration's policies are changed or stopped, the millions of policyholders in this country will suffer irreparable injury."

National Debt Goes Up

Washington.—The United States national debt on Sept. 19 was 33 billion 811 million dollars, an increase of 4 billion 377 million over a year ago.

Why Not an "FFF"?

"Farley, Folly and Failure."

SUBSCRIBE TO THE CAMPBELL PRESS

B. O. CURRY RECOVERS

We are pleased to report that our good friend and citizen, B. O. Curry, who has been on the sick list, was out again and at his office yesterday. It's hard to keep a good man down.

National Disgrace

Carter Glass, Democratic senator from Virginia, said: "The New Deal, taken all in all, is not only a mistake, it is a disgrace to the nation."

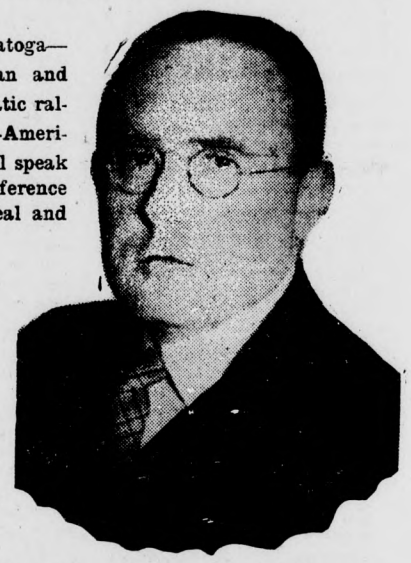
NEW MODERN HOME
including refrigerator and modern gas range. Will be sold for cost. Small payment down, balance like rent.
S. N. HEDEGARD
Phone Campbell 80

Fresh Fish
Wed., Thurs., Fri.
Fresh oysters every day
RAY MATHIS
RED & WHITE STORE
Free Delivery - Phone 85

For RADIO SERVICE
Call Campbell 21-J
SMILY'S RadiO SHOP
Mazda Light Bulbs
RCA Tubes - Guaranteed Radio Repairs

HEAR
Alonzo Baker
REPUBLICAN NOMINEE FOR CONGRESS
Next Mon. Evening, Los Gatos Grammar School

In a Campbell—Saratoga—Los Gatos Republican and Jeffersonian Democratic rally sponsored by Pro-America Women. Baker will speak on ''Ten Points of Difference Between the New Deal and Republicanism.''



EVERY TUES. AND THURS.
8 P. M., KQW

Baker is now giving his program for the 8th District in his radio talks.

Vote for Baker for Congress, Nov. 3

VOTERS:
You Can and Should Kill This Tax

Defeated once, the old Sales Tax on Food is back again in disguise... along with added taxes on other necessities of life

On your November ballot, it masquerades as a "Retail Store License"—Proposition #22.

But brought down to cases, it is a hidden sales tax on food and other necessities. A tax for the consumer to pay in higher prices.

It charges individual stores $1.00 a year for the right to do business. It taxes chain stores $500.00 for each store over nine. But it is you who will really pay.

For, as the U. S. Federal Trade Commission states...

"If the ability to undersell, based on greater efficiency or on elimination of credit and delivery cost, is destroyed by taxation, it is the consuming public which will really pay the tax and not the chain."

Why? Because four out of five chain stores do not make enough profit to cover the tax.

For chain stores operate on a small profit. They eliminate middlemen's profits and unnecessary in-between expenses. The savings they make by operating efficiently are passed on to you in prices 10% below the average. The Harvard (University) School of Business Research states these to be the facts.

Thus chain stores must raise their prices or go out of business. If they raise prices, you will pay the tax.

If they go out of business, their competitors can raise prices even more—and you will pay.

Further, this tax is admittedly not for revenue purposes. It is a subsidy for wasteful business methods—at your expense.

So if you think that chain store competition helps to keep all prices in line with your pocketbook—if you are opposed to higher taxes on foods and other necessities—vote NO and keep prices low.

For no matter what name they give it ...no matter how cleverly they disguise it...22 is a tax on you—VOTE NO!

22 IS A TAX ON YOU—VOTE NO!

22	RETAIL STORE LICENSE Referendum against act of Legislature (Chapter 849, Statutes 1935) requiring every person or organization owning, operating or controlling one or more stores, wherein merchandise is sold at retail, obtain annual State license; prescribing fifty cents application fee for each store and one dollar license fee for one store, increasing license fee progressively for second and additional stores to five hundred dollars for each store over nine; excepts filling stations, ice distributing establishments, restaurant facilities of common carriers, newspaper offices, stores wherein sales are incidental to rendering personal service, theatres and motion picture houses.	YES
		NO	X

CALIFORNIA CONSUMERS CONFERENCE

YOUTH CLUB MEETS

The Townsend Youth club had a very nice time at a wienie roast last Thursday evening in San Jose. The speaker of the evening was the Rev. C. S. Knight. The group will meet again Thursday evening at 1545 Sierra street, San Jose. Refreshments will be served. All are welcome.

PLAN WHIST PARTY

Cambrian Home and School club will sponsor a turkey whist at the school Saturday, Nov. 14. Mrs. R. Nelson, chairman of the finance committee, and Mrs. T. D. Bibby, acting chairman of Group 1, will be ably assisted by other members of this group. The public is cordially invited to attend.

POSTPONED

Owing to conflicting dates of the production of "East Lynne" at Los Gatos and the card party being sponsored by the Saratoga Foothill club, the date for the latter has been advanced a week and will be held Friday afternoon, Oct. 23, at the same place, the Fig Tree inn.

REBEKAH CARD PARTY

The Rebekah Stitching club will hold a public card party at Odd Fellows hall on Oct. 30. Details will appear later.

TO COME HOME FRI.

Will C. Cutting, who has been in the hospital for almost six weeks recovering from a fractured limb, which resulted when he was struck by an auto, will be brought home tomorrow .His many friends hope to see him going about again before many more weeks have passed.

NOTES IMPROVEMENT

Wendell Thomas has his desk at his home and is able to be about the house for part time service. He was delighted to receive a telegram from the district Kiwanis convention expressing esteem and best wishes. Say, it put Wendell on his feet again.

WANTED
Registrar for Drama School
(Extension Division)

The David Belasco School is seeking a man or woman of outstanding character and personality as Resident Registrar in Communications are invited with full outline of background and qualifications to interview and arrange courses for prospective pupils. Address Manager, Extension Division.

CAMPBELL

Professional TRAINING for STAGE and RADIO
(Local Extension Courses Soon to Be Established)

Through extension courses soon to be started in your city, The DAVID BELASCO SCHOOL OF DRAMATIC AND RADIO ARTS will offer practical and cultural instruction in the dramatic arts, including Pantomime, Voice and Diction, Personality, Make-up, Stage Direction, Radio Broadcasting and Stagecraft.

Faculty of 12, all noted actors and teachers, direct the courses. Special inducements to talented pupils.

Write today to Extension Division

The DAVID BELASCO
SCHOOL OF DRAMATIC AND RADIO ARTS
1337 SUTTER STREET :: SAN FRANCISCO

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

Editor's Note—This is the concluding article in a series by Ralph H. Taylor, secretary of the Agricultural Council of California—legislative body of the farm cooperatives—dealing with the state's farm labor problem.

The solution of California's farm labor problem—if it is to be a fair and equitable solution, with lasting benefits—must come as the result of mutual understanding and intelligent cooperation between farmers and farm workers, rather than by means of unionization, strikes, threates, coercion, or violence. This objective, furthermore, is entirely possible of accomplishment in the farming industry, for the average farmer is also a farm worker—working side by side with his men.

In many instances, the farmer has no greater security than the men who work for him. Each is dependent on the other — with the farmer's ability or inability to operate at a profit determining the wages he can pay and the men he can employ.

California farmers, on the whole, have dealt fairly and liberally with farm workers, as evidenced by the fact that this state has maintained one of the highest farm wage scales in the United States. During the depression, farm wages inevitably dropped to low levels, but during the depression thousands of farmers went bankrupt and lost their properties, while other thousands held on in the face of terrific losses and accumulating indebtedness which have mortgaged farm income for years to come. And California farm wages, even during the depression, held up far better than farm pay schedules in the nation as a whole.

Misunderstanding of the other fellow's problem, and the occasional farm operator who exploits his workers and disregards their right to decent working conditions and a fair return for their labor—the exception rather than the rule—are two of the primary causes of labor unrest in the farming areas of California.

Another primary cause is the radical agitator who has no more real concern for the worker's welfare than the farmer's, but who seizes on dissatisfaction to sow seeds of class hatred and revolutionary doctrine.

Under these circumstances, California farmers should do everything humanly possible to eliminate causes of friction and discontent. Fair play and square dealing—a practical application of the Golden Rule to farmer-worker relationships—will do more to defeat the aims of the Communists and other radical dissenters than any other factor.

One abuse which every farmer should guard against is the all too common practice of some growers of ordering more workers from labor agencies than they can use. Workers who travel many miles to a job only to find the promise of employment withdrawn, certainly have just cause for complaint and such disregard for the rights of the worker makes for bitterness and radicalism.

If agriculture is to have public support in its fight against Communism and radical activities, the farmer must be scrupulously careful to be fair in his dealings with the workers, to pay the best wages possible, to provide decent housing conditions and to prevent labor unrest by eliminating its causes.

The college of agriculture undoubtedly can be helpful in determining wage scales which are fair to both the farmer and the worker by making studies of farm costs and commodity prices which will give a true index to reasonable wage schedules. In several instances, during the last two or three years, the college has rendered splendid service by such studies and the work should be continued.

California agriculture, with its complex migratory worker problem, certainly cannot solve the problem by accepting union dictation and maintaining "a closed shop;" it cannot permit radical domination of its workers; nor can it afford strikes which cost both workers and farmers heavy financial losses and which fail utterly in improving conditions.

The problem must be solved by fair dealing and a better understanding between the two groups most vitally concerned—the farmers and the farm workers. And every farmer, if he values the welfare of his industry, should work toward that end.

Union Dist. Club Guest Day Sat.

We and Our Neighbors club will observe "guest day" this Saturday, Oct. 17, meeting at the club house at 1:3 0o'clock, when a dessert course will be served. The business session and program hour will follow with Mrs. Hyland Baggerly of Los Gatos as guest speaker.

The board of directors is meeting this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edward H. Todd, president of the club.

A successful card party, the first of a series which this energetic group will sponsor, was held in the clubhouse Saturday evening.

G. O. P. Rally At Los Gatos Mon.

The Los Gatos chapter of Pro America is sponsoring a Republican rally to be held Monday evening in the Los Gatos grammar school auditorium. Senator Sanborn Young will preside, and the speakers will be Alonzo Baker, candidate for congress, James Phillips, delegate to the Republican convention and president of the Young Republicans, and C. C. Cottrell, assemblyman.

Interested voters of Campbell and Saratoga districts are included in the invitation extended by the sponsoring group.

PICTURE-LECTURE

Prof. L. C. Newby of San Jose State college, who visited Spain last year, gave a most interesting talk and running commentary on an extensive set of pictures which he took while on the trip. After viewing these scenes, the conflict in that country appears in a clearer aspect. The lecture was heard Sunday evening at the Congregational church.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

By DON MARTIN

DANCE SCHEDULED FOR FRIDAY

A dance will be held by the student body in the annex after the basketball game tomorrow evening. The Hallowe'en idea was decided upon by the decorating committee.

June Porter and Eva Seko are co-chairmen of the decorating committee, other members of which are Ione Gardner, Betty Lester, Warren Peters, and Dick Van Arsdale.

Glen DuBois is chairman of the punch committee, and will be assisted by Stuart Wellington and Robert Shannon.

Verna Coonradt, Eva Seko, Bud Bachman, Clyde Allen and Ione Gardner make up the ticket committee. Admission will be by student body card or 25 cents. The "Cavaliers" will supply the music.

C. S. F. ELECTS OFFICERS

Campbell chapter, No. 275, of the California Scholarship federation, elected the following officers at a meeting held in the little theater room last Friday: Joe Bohnett, president; Ione Gardner, vice president, and Margaret Tanner, secretary.

T. B. SKIN TEST ANNOUNCED

Miss Beatrice H. Woodward addressed the student body Tuesday on the prevention of tuberculosis. She announced that a skin test would be given to detect tuberculosis germs within the body. This test will be given some time this fall, free to any student whose parents consent. Miss Woodward is the field representative of the California Tuberculosis association.

FUTURE FARMERS MEET

The Campbell chapter of Future Farmers of America held its first meeting of the semester yesterday. Sixteen boys who are beginning agricultural courses this year were voted into the "green hand" degree. Boys who have completed a year's work in an agricultural class were voted into the Future Farmer degree. Initiation of both groups will be held soon. Frank Lovoi presided over the meeting.

EXPECTED HOME

E. R. Kennedy and Frank Billings are expected home tomorrow from a week's deer hunting trip in Modoc county.

for a

Pleasant Evening

DINE and DANCE

at

COURT'S CABIN

on the Los Gatos Highway

• What we mean, it will be a night with lots of pep, and jazz furnished by BOB NORMAN

Many Other Attractions

SATURDAY

Town Hall Night

at

COURT'S

ADVERTISEMENT ADVERTISEMENT

Completely Relieved After Ten Years of Rheumatic Suffering

Stockton Poultry Raiser, Although Now 84 Years Old, Is Again Able to Take Care of His Chicken Ranch

Every person in Campbell should investigate the really amazing results so many people here who suffer from agonizing, stabbing muscular rheumatic, neuritic and gouty pains are getting. How well you know!—you sufferers— what this scourge of manhood means to its victims! Long, sleepless nights—racked with pain; dull, half alive days—crippled with the horror of neuritic agony; inflamed, aching muscles and joints—every fibre of your body crying for relief and peace; tissues loaded with impure deposits of body poison . . . In desperation, you have tried salves, liniments, "cure-alls." Disillusioned—discouraged—life has little meaning for you today.

Williams R. U. X. produced remarkable results for Chas. J. Gomez, 2727 East Washington Street, Stockton, California, an 84-year-old chicken rancher.

Remarkable Relief

But at last there is a message of genuine hope for you. Countless numbers of people are finding relief really beyond belief with Williams R.U.X. Compound. Read the following message received by the Shadle Drug Store, from Chas. J. Gomez, 2727 East Washington Street, Stockton, California. He says:

"I have been troubled with rheumatism for more than 10 years and nothing I ever took gave me any relief. I read of Williams R.U.X. Compound in the Stockton paper and decided to try it. After using just one bottle I am completely relieved of those terrible pains in my legs. Although 84 years old I am now able to do all the work on my chicken ranch. Williams R. U. X. Compound is a wonderful medicine."

Doctor's Formula

Developed from the experience of an army doctor in the World War, this remarkable medicine is now available to you under the name of Williams R.U.X. Compound, and scores of local pain-ridden people are daily finding that this medicine actually does the work. Get a bottle today from Shadle's Drug Store, and if you are not more than satisfied with the results from the very first bottle, return the empty bottle and carton and your money will be immediately refunded.

THE "GADGET" SHOP

GADGETS, HARDWARE and

METAL ODDITIES, INCLUDING COSTUME

JEWELERY, MADE TO YOUR ORDER

—

FINE, LIGHT LATHE WORK

REPAIRING DELICATE MECHANISMS

and GUNS A SPECIALTY

Leave Orders at Press Office or phone 21-J

FIELD'S STORE

THURS., FRI. and SAT. SPECIALS

Old Dutch Cleanser, lrg. cans, 6 for	39c
Morning Brand Milk, tall cans, 4 for	27c
RINSO, lrg. pkg. 20c; sm. pkg.	9c
LIFEBUOY SOAP, 6 bars	35c
Shredded Wheat, 2 for	23c
Snowflake Sodas, 1-lb. pkg.	17c
Briardale Mayonnaise, pts. 25c; qts.	45c
Folger's Coffee, reg or drip, 1-lb. 28c; 2-lbs	54c
Pioneer Minced Clams, No. ½ can	17½c
Waldorf Tissue, 3 lg. rolls	13c
Scot Tissue, 3 rolls	22c
Westlake Pumpkin, 2½'s	10c
Underwood Clam Chowder or Clams 10-oz	10c
STOP SPOT	47c
Briardale Pears, 2½'s	23c
Hormel Luncheon Meat, 12-oz.	33c
Calif. Home. Tomato Juice, 3 No. 1's	23c

FIELD'S STORE

PHONE 127 SERVICE and DEPENDABILITY

FALL PAINT SPECIALS

BIG

FALL PAINT SPECIALS

2-DAY PAINT SALE AND FACTORY DEMONSTRATION

FRIDAY - SATURDAY - OCT. 16-17

Mr. Ward, DuPont Representative, will be at our store on these 2 days, to help you with your painting problems. Here's an opportunity to get correct information, the right color-schemes, and any other expert help you may need. COME IN — NO OBLIGATION TO BUY!

SEE THESE BARGAINS!

on sale at

Leverton Hardware

Whitman Bldg. CAMPBELL Phone 34

... Big Value

CHI-VO HOUSE PAINT

MADE BY DUPONT

A pure linseed oil paint. Low in price, but not a "cheap" paint. Excellent hiding and covering. Goes on easily—saves time. Many attractive colors. Strong, durable—complete protection at low cost.

$2.49 PER GALLON IN COLORS

EXTRA SPECIAL!

DUCO Brush DUCO

Quickest, easiest way to fill rooms with colorful new beauty. Flows on evenly. Dries quickly. Lasts long. Rich, gleaming colors that resist fading.

½pt. can DUCO and 1" Varnish Brush (66c value) both for 36c choice of 22 colors, for Autos, Furniture, Drainboards, Etc.

DUPONT PAINTS · DUCO

YOUR PAINT STORE

LINKOTA

SAVES LINOLEUM . . .

The Spreader saves your back!

- Linkota—a pale, colorless varnish especially made for use on linoleum.
- Seals the pores against dust and dirt—KEEPS DIRT OUT.
- Makes your linoleum easy to keep clean.
- Protects the linoleum—makes it last longer.
- The handy Spreader makes your finishing job easy—just pour some Linkota on the floor, and mop it around with the long-handled Spreader.

SAVES TIME & MONEY, TOO

LOOK!

1 QUART and the HANDY SPREADER $1.18

Quart DuPont's 1793 Floor Varnish 90c

5 lb. Pkg. 1st Quality Kalsomine white & colors 50c come in for

FREE COLOR SCHEME BOOKLET

28 pages of authentic color-schemes, in color, and information on "how to do it." Both inside and outside painting.

THE WASHABLE FINISH for Kitchens and Bathrooms

DUPONT

INTERIOR SEMI-GLOSS

FOR WALLS & WOODWORK

DRIES HARD AND SMOOTH	EASY TO APPLY... DRIES QUICKLY
EASY TO CLEAN	DUST, DIRT, INK, GREASE WASH RIGHT OFF!

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF LOW PRICE $1.02 qt.

PAINT NOW!

with

DUPONT FLOOR & DECK ENAMEL

Protect wood and concrete floors—inside or out—with Du Pont Floor & Deck Enamel. It keeps water from soaking in, makes floors last longer and look better. Good for all floors from attic to basement. qt. $1.07

10 Colors

DUPONT PAINTS · DUCO

CALIFORNIA
News of the Week

U. S.-Mexican Trade Soars

El Centro.—Exports through the Calexico customs port amounted to $135,473 during the month of September. Exports for September, 1935, totaled $118,174. Improved business conditions was given as the cause of the increase. Dutiable imports amounted to $19,632, and free imports $115,411 for a total of $135,043. The total imports for the same month last year were valued at $32,516.

10 Cents Per Mile to Orient

San Francisco.—Pasenger service on Clipper ships of Pan American Airways from San Francisco to the Orient, to start October 21, will cost passengers approximately 10 cents a mile. The fare to Honolulu is $360, or $648 for the round trip. The Clipper will leave here on Wednesday afternoon and is scheduled to reach Honolulu for breakfast the following morning.

Goose Lake Real Lake Again

Alturas.—For the first October in five years there has been a measurable amount of water in Goose Lake, once one of the largest lakes in California. The water surface extends twenty-two miles in length and is about seven miles across. The lake began drying up in 1911 and was completely dry 20 years later. In the '90's a steamboat was used on the lake to transport crops.

No Takers for State Jobs

Sacramento.—For the first time since the civil service act was passed in 1934, there was a shortage of applicants for State jobs. The position was junior bridge tender, open to men 30 to 60 years of age. An insufficent list of applicants have filed, it was said, to fill the thirty openings, mostly on bridges along the Sacramento river.

Lumber Executive Burns to Death

McCloud (Siskiyou Co.)—Albert W. Lakin, general manager for the McCloud Lumber Company, was burned to death while directing a force of 350 men who were fighting a fire that threatened to destroy this town. Surrounded by flames, Lakin made a vain attempt to break through to safety.

Octodecimuplets Born at Berkeley

Berkeley.—"Mrs. BH17543," one of the 1000 rats kept at the University of California for experiments in nutrition, gave birth to octodecimuplets—eighteen to you—a world's record. Litters of 10 or 12 are not uncommon. Laboratory attendants say that if she keeps up at this rate she will have 300 children in one normal lifetime.

Yacht Sold to Filipinos

Los Angeles.—The yacht Casiana, one of the most magnificent craft of its kind in the world, will soon sail for Manila to become floating headquarters for President Quezon of the Philippine Commonwealth. The yacht was purchased from the E. L. Doheny estate for a price of $50,000. It cost $800,000 to build.

Motor Works to Employ 2000

South Gate.—Production of 1937 model automobiles at the General Motors plant here will start within a few days. Approximately 2000 men will be called to work, officials have announced. This pay roll represents an increase of 300 per cent over the spring schedule, when 500 were employed immediately after the plant was completed.

Sterilization Law Upheld

San Bernardino.—The State's right to order the sterilization of persons found guilty of committing statutory offenses while afflicted with social diseases was upheld in a ruling of the fourth district court of appeals on file here.

State Hunter Bags 511 Lions

Three Rivers.—While trailing a mountain lion in this area Jay Bruce disclosed that he has captured or killed 511 lions in his famed career as State lion hunter.

$40,000 Fire in Hollister

Hollister.—Fire destroyed the Lathrop Hay and Grain Co. warehouse, said to be the largest of its kind in the world. Loss was estimated at $40,000. Spontaneous combustion was blamed.

Sports Area Considered

Fresno.—Bacon Meadow in Sequoia National Forest, between General Grant and Sequoia National parks, is being considered as a new winter sport area.

Flying Hunters Kill Eagles

San Francisco.—A protest against the sport of killing American eagles from airplanes has been made by Frederick H. Dale, zoology graduate of the University of California. In a survey for the university Dale reported more than 200 bald or American eagles were slaughtered by hunters operating from airplanes over northern California last winter and spring. Both the American and Golden eagles are protected by a State law making their killing a misdemeanor.

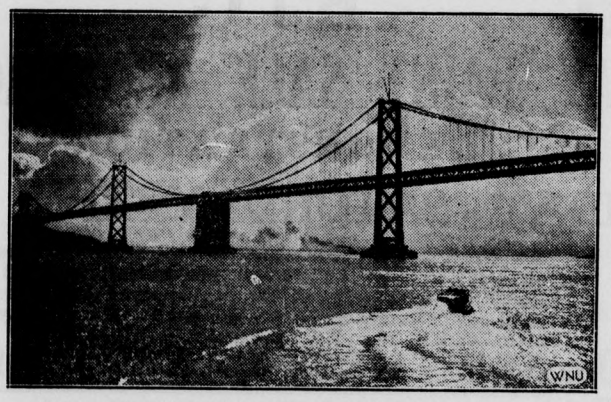
WAVES BATTER WRECKED FREIGHTER

High waves batter at the stern of the freighter Ohioan where it grounded in a dense fog near Point Lobos, almost at the entrance to San Francisco Bay. Slight hope was held for salvaging the 5100-ton vessel.

DECLARES ACTRESS HIS 'DISCOVERY'

Declaring he discovered Shirley Temple and developed her into "a $5,000,000 personality," Jack Hays, Hollywood director and child trainer, is suing Shirley Temple, her parents, two film corporations, a bank, and a trust company for $1,000,000 damages and an accounting of her earnings. Hays set forth a contract of Jan. 23, 1932 approved by the Superior Court here, which he claims the Temple broke on Oct. 1, 1933. Photo shows Shirley Temple with Jack Hays, taken several years ago.

MIGHTY SPAN SOON TO BE OPENED



This profile view of the San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge shows only half of the two-mile long suspension spans. With paving completed this week, painting is the principal piece of work remaining to be finished before the bridge is opened to automobile traffic on November 12 of this year.

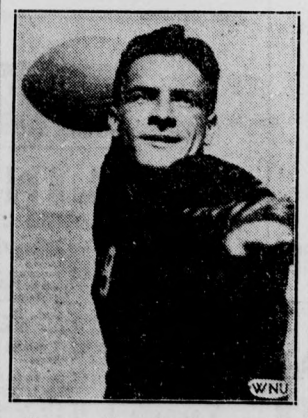
No. 1 Passenger

First ticket to be sold to a passenger for the first trans-Pacific commercial flight of Pan American Airways from Alameda to Manila, went to R. F. Bradley, San Francisco manager of the aviation department of the Standard Oil company. Departure of the first passenger-carrying Clipper is scheduled for Oct. 21.

Klamath Falls (Ore.)—The Shasta-Cascade Wonderland Association, in convention here, went on record as against deer derbies in which prizes are offered for the largest bucks killed in certain areas.

Cotton harvest in California was well started by the first of October. A total crop of 423,00 bales is expected if favorable weather continues.

Battering George



George Cornell is currently rated the most efficient halfback on the University of California varsity football squad. In the contest with St. Mary's, Cal's first major game of the season, Cornell made a personal record of 60 yards in 10 plays, or two-thirds of the total Bear yardage from running plays.

Tulare to Have Own Power System

Tulare.—The Tulare Board of Public Utilities, encouraged by a 2 to 1 vote in a recent special election in favor of purchasing the local power system, prepared to go ahead as rapidly as possible to give the city a publicly owned electrical distribution system financed by revenue bonds.

Coulterville.—Completion of the Mother Lode highway through this territory will be celebrated by a three day fiesta beginning Oct. 16.

STATEWIDE
Farm & Ranch News

Flax Outlook Bright

Production of flax in San Joaquin Valley is likely to be favorably affected by the pickup in building through the nation, according to County Farm Adviser Gilfillan. The United States uses more flaxseed, the source of linseed oil, than it produces. This also is true of California. In 1935 about 54 per cent of the linseed oil used here came from outside the State. While the freight rate differential on these shipments is distinctly to the advantage of the California grower the estimated 1936 flaxseed acreage in the State has not greatly increased over 1935, although a larger production is expected.

Tokay Shipments Larger Than 1935

Shipments of Tokay grapes from the Lodi district this season soon will pass the 1935 total. Figures released by Deputy County Horticultural Commissioner C. D. Cooper show the total for 1935 was 2,406,382 packages and the 1936 total to date is 2,058,427. About 78,000 packages are being shipped daily.

Record Wine Shipment East

A train of sixteen cars, containing more than 100,000 gallons of wine produced in Sacramento County, left the Woodbridge Vineyard Association winery at Bradford last week, consigned to the Eastern Wine Corporation, New York, where it will be canned. It was the largest tank car movement of wine in history.

Lodi Wineries Busy

Lodi wineries are taking grapes in large volume with the daily crush for the fifteen local plants totaling approximately 4,500 tons of the various varieties of grapes.

Hawaiian Spuds Present Problem

Competition from Hawaiian produced potatoes with early potato growers in Santa Cruz county has become an important factor, according to Paul Barker, assistant farm adviser. Barker said the 1937 production of early potatoes in Hawaii would approximate 1000 acres and 100,000 sacks. Any increase in the movement from Hawaii would tend to decrease prices, he said.

Levee Work Proceeding

Levee work on the Sacramento, Bear and Feather rivers totaling $1,201,000 is under construction at the present time, scheduled for completion by January 1st in readiness for the spring freshets. The work will fortify forty-six miles of levees on the valley flood control system. Of the total cost, the State is paying $725,000 and the federal government the balance, amounting to $476,000, inclusive of the cost of right of ways.

Citrus Men Make Ready for Frost

Orange county citrus growers are marshaling their forces in a war against cold in which they have a $10,000,000 investment. Farm Adviser Wahlberg urged growers to place their orchard heaters. Growers are awaiting announcement of the date when annual frost forecasts will be started by Floyd Young, government forecaster at Pomona.

Mojave Water Project Off

Abandonment of the Mojave river water utilization project was disclosed in a report issued by Francis Cuttle of Riverside, chairman of the group which sponsored the project. The group included Riverside, Orange and San Bernardino county water interests who initiated a survey of the watershed two years ago.

War on Ground Squirrels

Bruce McMath, inspector in the office of Agricultural Commissioner Harold Crane, is staging a war upon the ground squirrels in the Wheatland section. Farmers are cooperating with McMath in placing poisoned barley in a way to insure a thorough eradication of the pests.

Warn Against Flax Insect

Warning to farmers of the Sacramento and San Joaquin Valleys who intend to plant flax to be sure their seed has not been damaged by the false chinch bug has been sounded by Ben A. Madson, professor of agronomy at Davis. Professor Madison reports that damage by the insect has proved to be much more serious than was at first suspected in the two great interior valleys. Yields have been reduced but the greatest damage has been in the reduction of germinability from a normal of about 80 per cent to as low as 7 per cent.

New Milk Price Established

Acting under the provisions of the Young milk marketing and stabilization law, State Director of Agriculture A. A. Brock has approved an amendment fixing a price of 69 cents per pound milk fat to be paid producers by distributors in the Riverside-San Bernardino milk marketing area. The price becomes effective October 16. The former price set by the director under the marketing agreement for the area was 59 cents per pound milk fat.

POULTRY

FALL HATCHING IS ON THE INCREASE

Poultrymen Plan Uniform Egg Production.

By G. T. Klein, Extension Poultry Specialist, Massachusetts State College.
WNU Service.

The number of pullets purchased this fall to produce eggs for fall hatching will probably exceed that of most recent years. Fall hatching is definitely on the increase as poultrymen continue with their plan of bringing about uniform egg production throughout the year.

Studies made by extension services have shown that the consumer pays 13.6 cents more a dozen for eggs from July 1 to December 1 than he does during the winter and spring months, mainly because the majority of chicks are hatched in March and April and come into production after December. Poultrymen now plan to hatch chicks in odd lots over the year and have eggs at reasonable prices any time the consumer wants them.

Late fall is the best time for hatching, and the brood should not number more than 25 per cent of the total flock. Records of poultrymen show that Rhode Island Reds hatched on October 15 will be laying 50 per cent in April; will go to 65 or 75 per cent in May, June, July, and August, and with some culling will hold 50 per cent production in September and October.

These pullets can replace birds culled from the laying pens next summer and will give their heaviest production during the months that the average bird takes a vacation from egg-laying.

Fall hatched birds have a tendency to lay smaller eggs and their brooding costs run slightly higher, but poultrymen are finding them profitable and the practice of fall hatching is on the increase.

Avoid Crowding Pullets, Poultry Expert's Advice

Costs of raising pullets may be reduced if attention is given to the problem of providing adequate brooding space as the chicks increase in size, says C. E. Rohde, of the Missouri College of Agriculture. Chicks that become crowded cost more to develop, as they grow more slowly.

It is important to market cockerels as broilers at the earliest possible time, in order to provide additional room for the growing pullets. Even when sufficient brooding units make it practical to release the cockerels, it is desirable to separate them from the pullets as soon as the sexes can be determined. Cockerels grow more rapidly and tend to crowd pullets from the feeders.

Separation of the sexes will result in better and more uniform pullet development. It will also enable producers to push the cockerels for an earlier market. This may be accomplished by using all-night lights to lengthen the feeding periods for the market birds. Dim, all-night lighting may be done with kerosene or other types of lanterns, as well as with low-watt electric lights.

Success With Poultry

Success in poultry is not merely a matter of buying some chicks, scattering some feed and bringing in the eggs. Many people seem to think that with two or three hundred chickens they can make a good living with very little work; when, as a matter of fact, it requires some 1,200 or 1,500 chickens and lots of hard work, experience, study and an aptitude for the business, to make a living from poultry exclusively, says a writer in the Rural New-Yorker.

Cull Defective Chicks

Cull sickly, unthrifty, slow maturing, undersized chicks and pullets as soon as observed, advises an expert in the Ohio Experiment Station Bimonthly Bulletin. Such count of their being infected birds are generally culls because of an inherent weakness or on account of their being infected with disease or infested with parasites, either of which may be transmitted to the balance of the flock. Hence, all such birds should be culled and disposed of as soon as possible.

With the Poultrymen

Over 31 billion hen eggs are produced in this country each year.

• • •

Pullets and old hens require plenty of shade when the temperature jumps.

• • •

The normal temperature of the hen is high—about 105, as compared with 983-5 in man

• • •

Poor housing facilities stand out as one of the chief reasons for the low winter egg production.

• • •

The greater the temperature the smaller the egg. Apparently, heat affects the hen's reproductive tract.

• • •

Ducks are commonly classed among the barnyard inhabitants, but they always have taken a place on the lists of pets.

OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSEWIFE

Use two spoons for turning a roast. A fork pierces the surface and allows the juice to escape.

• • •

When opening a new pattern write the number of the pattern on each piece. No matter how scattered the pieces may get, you will know to which pattern they belong.

• • •

Flaked salmon and chopped cucumber pickles moistened with mayonnaise makes a tasty sandwich filling.

• • •

If cream or custard sauce curdles put the vessel in which it is cooking in a pan of hot water and heat well. It will soon become smooth again.

• • •

Sandpapering baby's shoes before they are worn prevents slipping and saves many a fall.

• • •

When a recipe calls for macaroons and there are no more on hand, take a cup of dried bread crumbs, one-half cup sugar and 2 teaspoons almond flavoring, mix together and put in the oven to get very brown. This cannot be told from the real thing.

© Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong. No alcohol. Sold by druggists in tablets or liquid.—Adv.

Credit Due

Ancestors may have built the family fortune, but it takes pretty good ability to preserve it intact.

MUSCLES FELT STIFF AND SORE

Got Quick RELIEF From Pain

If muscles in your legs, arms, chest, back or shoulders feel stiff and sore, get a bottle of Hamlins Wizard Oil and get quick relief. Rub it on—rub it in. Warms—soothes—gives wonderful comfort. Will not stain. At all druggists.

HAMLINS WIZARD OIL
For MUSCULAR ACHES and PAINS Due to RHEUMATISM - NEURALGIA LUMBAGO - CHEST COLDS

Remembrance Is Ours

Remembrance is the only paradise out of which we cannot be driven away.—Richter.

Why Laxatives Fail In Stubborn Constipation

Twelve to 24 hours is too long to wait when relief from clogged bowels and constipation is needed, for then enormous quantities of bacteria accumulate, causing GAS, indigestion and many restless, sleepless nights.

If you want REAL, QUICK RELIEF, take a liquid compound such as Adlerika. Adlerika contains SEVEN cathartic and carminative ingredients that act on the stomach and BOTH bowels. Most "overnight" laxatives contain one ingredient that acts on the lower bowel only.

Adlerika's DOUBLE ACTION gives your system a thorough cleansing, bringing out old poisonous waste matter that may have caused GAS pains, sour stomach, headaches and sleepless nights for months.

Adlerika relieves stomach GAS at once and usually removes bowel congestion in less than two hours. No waiting for overnight results. This famous treatment has been recommended by many doctors and druggists for 35 years. Take Adlerika one-half hour before breakfast or one hour before bedtime and in a short while you will feel marvelously refreshed. Leading Druggists.

FEMININE WEAKNESS

C. Krenzky of 1341 Garfield St., Phoenix, Ariz., said: "Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the biggest help for my wife. She was run-down during the change of life period and her appetite was poor. I knew of Dr. Pierce's Remedies because my people had always had great faith in them, and a few bottles of the 'Prescription' soon had my wife eating more and enjoying good health." Go to your neighborhood druggist today.

WEALTH AND HEALTH

Good health and success go together. Don't handicap yourself—get rid of a sluggish, acid condition with tasty Milnesia, the original milk of magnesia in wafer form. Each wafer equals 4 teaspoonfuls milk of magnesia. Neutralizes acids and gives you pleasant elimination. 20c, 35c & 60c sizes.

HELP TIRED FEET FOR

Warm bath with Cuticura Soap greatly soothes and benefits. Then apply Cuticura Ointment—effective treatment and medication for local irritations. Try it tonight. In morning, dust with Cuticura Talcum to help prevent shoe discomfort. FREE samples by writing "Cuticura" Dept. 31, Malden, Mass.

CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

BRISBANE
THIS WEEK

Yes, a Queer World
Supply and Demand
If All Worked Hard
The Biggest Brain

How Queer is our world!

Fascists, led by Sir Oswald Mosley of the English Blackshirts, who think they ought to change the British government, learned from a mob that fascism does not suit England—yet. The Blackshirts were driven home.

Arthur Brisbane

Next day, bands of the Fascists invaded the London Jewish quarter, smashing windows. In the first day's rioting between Fascists and the crowd that does not want fascism, hundreds were hurt.

England is becoming modernized. One of her race track gambling-gangsters, murdered "American fashion" in the course of gangster business, was honored with a funeral that would make Chicago or New York stare.

Mussolini does not believe that old "supply and demand" is necessarily omnipotent. While cutting four per cent from the value of Italian money, he forbids any increase in prices, any rent increase for two years. That experiment will be watched with interest. The word "money," most important in the world to many, has less real meaning than any other word in the dictionary, nobody knowing anything about it.

A new law in Paraguay compels every able-bodied man to work, whether he wants to or not. Here men that want jobs can't get them. There men can get jobs, but don't want them.

The general idea is good, but if all able-bodied men had been compelled to work always the human race would still be far back in the dark ages. One of the greatest Greeks said truly that bodily slavery was necessary, because it gave leisure to a few, leisure made thought possible and thought created progress.

If all men had worked hard, by compulson, there would have been no deliberate thinking. Slavery would be necessary now for the world's progress had not machines taken the place of slaves.

Scientists of the Smithsonian Institution announce discovery by Dr. Hrdlicka in the Aleutian islands, off the coast of Alaska, of a skull that once held the biggest brain on record, excepting that of the Russian novelist Turgenieff, who had a brain cavity of 2,030 cubic centimeters. The biggest American brain belonged to Daniel Webster, 2,000 cubic centimeters.

But brain size and weight are not everything. Beethoven, with a 1,750 cubic centimeter skull, will outlive in importance Webster, the French naturalist Cuvier, and other "big brains."

Adaptation to usefulness is the important thing. It is said that the eye of the eagle is twice as heavy as the eagle's brain.

Wine bottled in Germany hereafter will have, instead of a cork, a plug of German wood.

To help make Germany independent of the outside world, the use of cork, that does not grow in Germany, is forbidden. This will save 10,000,000 marks a year, spent abroad for cork.

German wood, according to authorities, is cheaper, better, resists breakage, acid, alkali, and eliminates cork taste.

One question is, will the wooden cork swell up at the lower end sufficiently to overcome the pressure of gas in a champagne bottle?

At Jonesville, Va., Rev. T. Anderson, in a demonstration of faith, allowed poisonous serpents to bite him three times, assuring his congregation that they could not harm him.

A copperhead moccasin snake bit him twice on the right hand; a rattlesnake once on the left.

Unfortunately Rev. Mr. Anderson, member of the Holiness persuasion died soon afterward.

We go up and down quickly in the United States, particularly in new enterprises. William Fox, once one of the most energetic, successful of moving picture men, now a bankrupt, tells the court that in 1930 he was worth one hundred million dollars; now he has only "odds and ends," meaning only a few hundred thousands, here and there.

Our South American neighbor, Nicaragua, forbids all slot machines and other gambling devices in that country. All must be destroyed.

Nicaragua's government says such machines teach children to gamble, and their owners are parasites of the worst kind, making a profit of 68 cents on every dollar.

© King Features Syndicate, Inc.
WNU Service.

Washington Digest

National Topics Interpreted
By WILLIAM BRUCKART
NATIONAL PRESS BLDG. WASHINGTON D. C.

Washington.—Several years ago I expressed in these columns the conviction that one thing America needed was a congress which would cease attempting to amend the law of supply and demand. The observation was made in the midst of the most depressed economic conditions that modern times had known and it brought down upon my head a vast amount of criticism. Readers wrote me at length about the stupidity that I had displayed by making such a statement.

One Thing Needed

Reference to that circumstance is made here at this time, because it is apropos again. It is apropos because we are in a political campaign out of which will come either the re-election of Franklin D. Roosevelt or the election of Governor Landon of Kansas. The results of this political campaign are going to hinge to a considerable extent on the attitude of the farmers of this country and if there is one segment of the American economic structure to whom the law of supply and demand means more than to another, it is to the farmers.

Now, Democratic spokesmen are going about the country talking about soil conservation, about relief for the farmers, about anything and everything that will give the farmers money.

Republican spokesmen are shouting and waving their arms with other propositions to aid the farmer. Some of them probably are workable, and if they are workable they must be considered constructive.

But the point I am trying to make is that in the case of either candidate, there is still too much of the idea of the superficial, of surface help, for agriculture. In other words, the programs still take into account some circumvention of the law of supply and demand. That statement is not wholly true of Governor Landon's farm program, but unless the New Dealers come forward with more than they have thus far advanced, I think it can be said their program offers nothing more than a continued raid on the Treasury of the United States with no plans at all for correcting underlying conditions.

There was one phase of Governor Landon's program, as advanced in speeches at Des Moines, Iowa and Minneapolis, Minn. that appealed to me. Brushing aside verbiage and detail, Governor Landon basically has in mind, apparently, a desire to get the government out of the farmer's hair. He seems convinced that there are many things which the farmers would like to do for themselves and will do for themselves if the machinery upon which they can operate is made available. He proposes, for example, to seek legislation that will enable the farmers to finance themselves through borrowing from commercial agencies, banks and trust companies, instead of from the government. With that I agree to the fullest. It means simply that farmers again can be masters of their own souls as well as the crops which they grow for it, puts them in a position to sell when they want to sell, without the necessity for asking permission from a bureaucrat in Washington. It means further that no bureaucrat in Washington can issue an order to that farmer that he must dispose of his stored crop.

It seems to me as well that anyone who analyzes the present regimentation of the farmers from Washington must recognize that which has always been true: Every time the government, which means politicians, attempts to mess into private business, that private business goes from bad to worse and it does not matter how bad it was when bureaucrats took hold. It will be worse thereafter.

• • •

I have been wondering, however, how far Mr. Landon will go in encouragement of the family type farms. You will remember that he spoke at length of family type farms in his Des Moines address. Personally, I feel that he hit upon a very important point. I think it is important because it strikes at the root of the farm problem.

Hits Root of Farm Problem

In discussing help for the man who owns or wants to own a small farm, Governor Landon surely is proposing a program that will serve this nation well because no nation whose farms are widely owned by those who operate them can be headed toward fascism or communism. I do not know how the Governor as President will be able to put the federal government behind such a program, but it is to be assumed that he had definite ideas on the subject or he would not have boldly stated his position. My hope is that it can be done not with government money, but with money supplied from private institutions since there has been too much government competition with business of the nation already. Further, regretful as it is, the federal government has not and cannot have any function in that field for the reason that it inevitably leads further into politics, further into waste and the eventual destruction of the people whom the demagogues claim they are helping.

The reason I have advocated this action so strongly is the fact that there are too many tenant farmers in the United States now, far too many. It is fundamental, in my opinion, that this nation can get on with the present trend. Is is sad, but it is true, that there are about forty per cent of our farms now operated by tenants. In other words, one out of less than three farms in the United States is worked by a man who does not own it.

• • •

Some information was made public the other day to the effect that 85 per cent of the newspapers of the country were supporting Governor Landon as against President Roosevelt in this campaign. I do not know the actual percentage and I do not vouch for the figures I have reported to you. But of this I am certain: I believe that Governor Landon does have more editorial support than any presidential nominee has had in the last six campaigns, with the exception of President Roosevelt as a candidate in 1932.

Press for Landon

It has been interesting to watch the various important independent newspapers as they have studied the two candidates this year and have reached conclusions as to the nominee they will support. I am not now referring to hide-bound Republican papers, nor to newspapers that could normally be expected to support the more conservative of the two candidates. I am thinking of independent or distinctly Democratic newspapers that have announced their opposition to the Roosevelt cause. Let me mention a few of them: The St. Louis Post-Dispatch, the Omaha World-Herald, the Baltimore Sun, to mention only three.

• • •

There was a great newspaper, one of the greatest, that took a stand for President Roosevelt a few days ago. I refer to the New York Times. No one can ever say that the New York Times ever has failed to arrive at its conclusions without giving all factors concerned careful study. I am saying by this that the New York Times is honest and sincere. But I must say at the same time that the New York Times has a background as an institution and it has a clientele of readers for whom it speaks and its accession to the Roosevelt cause is a perfectly natural position for it to take. For years the New York Times has contended that America should participate to a greater extent in world affairs. It has contended, without exception, for policies of an internationalism with which a great many thinking people disagree. Its view, concretely, appears to be that we cannot correct depression conditions unless the United States as a nation wholeheartedly moves in the circle of governments that rule Europe and Asia, especially in matters of an economic character.

New York Times

I do not know what Governor Landon's pronouncements on foreign policy are going to be. But I have observed the policies that have had the backing of the New York Times over a number of years and it seems to me that they result in greater benefits to a limited class than to the country as a whole. I am not a rabble rouser; I do not link the New York Times with the money-changers of Wall street as the demagogues describe them. It is just the perspective that I have gained of the whole picture since I have no axes to grind.

In the case of those newspapers that have turned against Mr. Roosevelt, there is to some extent a consideration of local interests, circumstances of concern to the communities which they serve, just as in the case of the New York Times. The point is, however, that in the case of newspapers turning against Mr. Roosevelt, their new positions are predicated on what appears to me to be traditional American bases. That is to say, they are adhering to the principles which I believe to have been the foundation stones of American history. I have no quarrel with the attitude of that school of thought that believes we should engage further in international affairs than we have done. It is their conviction and they have a right to it. Yet, it is not mine.

I have said may times in these columns that I will support any proposition that is good for America as a whole; I have contended consistently for Americanism and the things which that means, and I have argued always for sound government.

© Western Newspaper Union.

'Old Oaken Bucket' Panel

Pattern 1067

So dear to our hearts—the tune, "Old Oaken Bucket," and now, a wall panel in its memory, which every one of us will want to embroider for spring. Such a home-like scene, this, which is planned for quick embroidery, with single and running stitch used mainly, and only a smattering of French knots. No frame is needed—just a lining.

Pattern 1067 comes to you with a transfer pattern of a picture 15 by 20 inches; a color chart and key; material requirements; illustrations of all stitches needed.

Send 15 cents in stamps or coins (coins preferred) for this pattern to The Sewing Circle Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Ave., New York, N. Y.

Foreign Words and Phrases

A tout prix. (F.) At any price; whatever the cost.

Brutum fulmen. (L.) Ineffectual thunderbolt.

Chevalier d'industrie. (F.) A swindler; sharper; an adventurer.

Deus vobiscum! (L.) God be with you!

Ecce. (L.) Behold.

In medias res. (L.) Into the midst, as of a subject.

Mauvaise honte. (F.) False modesty.

Nil admirari. (L.) To wonder at nothing.

Revenons a nos moutons. (F.) Let us return to our sheep; i. e., to the point at issue.

Pate de foies gras. (F.) A pie of fat goose livers.

Quantum sufficit. (L.) As much as suffices; enough.

Savoir faire. (F.) The knowing how to do; address; tact.

Give your car the protection of Quaker State Winter Oils and Greases. Specially refined to flow freely at low temperatures . . . yet with the stamina to stand up under hard driving. Retail price . . . 35¢ per quart. Quaker State Oil Refining Co., Oil City, Pa.

DIZZY DEAN wins the ball throw
ALL OUT FOR THE BALL THROW!
GEE, MA, I WISH I DIDN'T HAVE A BROKEN ARM, MAYBE I COULD WIN THE BALL THROW
I WISH YOU COULD, TOMMY. THAT PRIZE OF A BASKET OF GROCERIES WOULD COME IN HANDY
HOW 'BOUT LETTIN' ME THROW FOR YOU, SON?
GOSH, WOULD YOU? YOU LOOK LIKE YOU COULD THROW SWELL!
WHAT AN ARM! HE PUT THE FIRST BALL RIGHT IN!
HE WAS JUST LUCKY! THE NEXT TWO WON'T GO ANYWHERE NEAR THE BARREL
THREE HITS IN THREE TRIES! HE WINS, BILL
THAT'S THE BEST THROWING I EVER SAW! YOU OUGHT TO BE IN THE BIG LEAGUE! WHAT'S YOUR NAME?
DIZZY DEAN. BUT TOMMY HERE GETS THE PRIZE
LOOK, MA! AT THE BASKET OF GROCERIES DIZZY DEAN WON FOR US
I NOTICE THERE'S GRAPE-NUTS IN IT, TOO, M'AM. GIVE TOMMY ALL HE WANTS — GRAPE-NUTS IS GOOD FOR KIDS. IT'S PACKED WITH NOURISHMENT. I KNOW—I EAT IT MYSELF

BOYS! GIRLS! Join Dizzy Dean Winners! Get Valuable Prizes FREE!

HOW TO JOIN: Just send one top from a full-size yellow and blue Grape-Nuts package, with your name and address, to Grape-Nuts, Battle Creek, Mich., for new membership pin and certificate and illustrated catalog of 49 nifty free prizes. You'll like crisp, delicious Grape-Nuts—it has a winning flavor all its own. Economical to serve, too, for two tablespoonfuls, with whole milk or cream and fruit, provide more varied nourishment than many a hearty meal. (Offer expires Dec. 31, 1936. Good only in the U.S.A.)

A Post Cereal—Made by General Foods
The same fine cereal in a new package!

Dizzy Dean Winners Membership Pin. New 1936 design, two-toned solid bronze with red lettering. Free for 1 Grape-Nuts package top.

Dizzy Dean Winners Ring. 24-carat gold-finish. Fits any finger. Free for 3 Grape-Nuts package tops.

DIZZY DEAN, c/o GRAPE-NUTS, Battle Creek, Mich.
I enclose ..... Grape-Nuts package tops, for which send me the item(s) checked below. (Put correct postage on your letter.) WSN 10-17-36
☐ Membership Pin (send 1 package top).
☐ Dizzy Dean Winners Ring (send 3 package tops).
Name _____
Street _____
City _____ State _____

Fraternal

Masonic Notice

Charity Lodge No. 362, F. & A. M., Campbell, Calif. Stated meetings held on the first Monday of each month.

Mark S. Stocker, W. M.
T. A. Robinson, Secretary

Independent Order of Odd Fellows

Morning Light Lodge No. 42 Meets every Thursday evening in I.O.O.F. hall. Sojourning members are cordially invited to attend the lodge meetings.

Roy Kosich, N. G.
Walter Smily, Secretary

Al Bulmore's Market

For the best meats available at reasonable prices -a trial will convince you

Free Delivery - Tel. 290

Phone Campbell 152
J. G. BURNS
Plumbing, Gas, Sheet Metal, and Pump Work
15 So. 2nd St. Campbell, Cal

Farmers Service
We specialize in manufacturing farm tools and implements
F. M. DUTRA :: 11 S. Central Campbell, Calif.

J. YOUNGREN
Painting Contractor
S. 4th St., Campbell - Tel. 182R
I Use and Recommend
DuPONT Paints and Enamels

Henry C. Artana,
INCORPORATED
Autos, Tractors, Trucks
335 W. Santa Clara St.
Ballard 988 San Jose, Calif.

BUY YOUR DODGE OR PLYMOUTH from Grattan's Garage

WRITE!
Send 10c for your Trial KIT OF 7 POMPEIAN FACE CREAMS and POWDERS

Your Pompeian Trial Kit is waiting. Mail coupon today with 10c. Discover the new simple way to beauty. Treat your skin to a Pompeian Message with the cream that really cleans. And the Pompeian 4-feature Face Powder... the powder that can stand the test of daylight. Offer is limited so you'd better mail the coupon now.

Regular sizes at your drug counter 55c and 65c

POMPEIAN COMPANY, Bloomfield, N. J.

Enclosed find 10c for which please send me 7 Pompeian Face Creams and Powders.

Name.....
Address.....
City.....

High School PTA Formed

A group of some 35 parents and teachers met Wednesday afternoon and formed a high school P. T. A. Mrs. C. E. Williams acted as temporary chairman, and after discussion the following officers were elected: Mrs. Floyd O. Bohnett, president; Mrs. Anthony Jurras, vice president; Mrs. W. W. Lester, secretary, Mrs. J. W. Knowles, treasurer, and Mrs. S. N. Hedegard, parliamentarian.

The next meeting has been set for Wednesday, Nov. 11, at the school.

SHANDON TRIP

Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, who had accompanied Miss Dorothy Knutson and her mother to Shandon, returned yesterday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mendel, who had been at Los Angeles.

Simple Economics

"The fundamental principles of government finance are exactly the same common-sense principles that we follow in the handling of our own family finances. So long as our government follows these principles our people will prosper. But if our government disregards these principles, it squanders our resources and destroys the public credit."—Alf M. Landon.

Banks Hold the Bag

Nearly 60 per cent of the national debt of $34,500,000,000 is owed to the banks of the nation. According to Senator Glass, a drop of ten per cent in the price of government bonds would put 90 per cent of the banks out of business. He says the New Deal forces the banks to buy.

STATEMENT OF OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, ETC., OF CAMPBELL PRESS, published weekly at Campbell, Calif, for Oct., 1936.
State of California, County of Santa Clara, ss.

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the state and county aforesaid, personally appeared Harry C. Smith, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the publisher-owner of the Campbell Press and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of Aug. 24, 1912, as amended by the Act of March 3, 1933, embodied in sec. 537, P. L. &. R, to wit:

That the name and address of the Publisher is Harry C. Smith, Campbell, Calif.

That the owner is Harry C. Smith, Campbell, Calif.

That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are none.

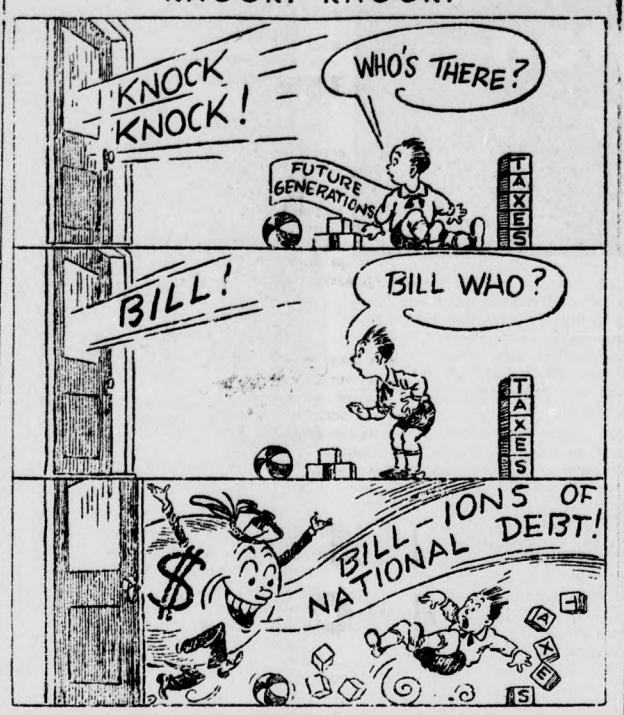
Harry C. Smith.

Sworn and subscribed before me this 10th day of Oct., 1936.

(SEAL) G. E. Farley
(My Commission Expires Feb. 8, 1939).

WEBBS
PHOTO FINISHING • PICTURE FRAMING
66 So First St. San Jose

HOMES, HOME SITES, LOTS, CHIC RANCHES
SMALL ACREAGE RANCHES, EXCHANGES
C. W. Shumway
80 Campbell Avenue



A Big Check

For not growing sugar cane one Puerto Rico producer was paid $961,000 by the Roosevelt administration.

Clothes Are High

More than one-fourth of the price of the suit of clothes you buy represents Roosevelt administration taxes.

Human and Liberal

Alf M. Landon's record as Governor of Kansas shows him as a champion of human rights, and liberal in all things except the spending of the people's money.

Tax on Pork Chops

When you buy a pound of pork chops, included in the price is seven cents for New Deal taxes.

Suffered Terribly With Gas Pains and Bloating Quick Relief with S.L.K

Physicians Prescription Quickly Relieves Distress of Indigestion, Sleepless Nights from Disordered Kidneys and Restores Failing Health

Good health, the key to life's happiness, is your rightful heritage. Is indigestion robbing you of the best years of your life? If clogged up bowels and disordered kidneys are poisoning your system, undermining your general health, causing you physical distress to the extent that you have lost normal interest and pleasures—it is time to take Williams S.L.K. even though you may have tried so many other things you think your case is hopeless.

Marvelous Results

Mr. Millard McKellips of Brooks, California, was in a bad condition when he tried his first bottle of S.L.K. recently and this is what he had to say about it:

"My stomach and kidneys have troubled me for years. It was necessary for me to get up several times each night because of my kidneys, breaking into my rest. Gas on my stomach caused a great deal of pain, everything I ate seeming to disagree with me and I was constantly losing weight. I tried every remedy I read about but nothing helped me. I have been taking S.L.K. now for four weeks and it has corrected all my trouble. I sleep all night, eat what I like and am gaining weight. Although I am 74 years old I have just finished putting a new roof on my barn, alone, something I never dreamed of attempting four weeks ago. I am thankful for S.L.K. and am glad to tell anyone of the marvelous results I received from it."

How S.L.K. Helps You

Williams S.L.K. Formula is based on a doctor's prescription for stomach, liver and kidney disorders, associated with constipation, sour or gassy stomach, distress after eating, sick headache, neuraglia, rheumatic pain, neuritis, billiousness, dyspepsia, heartburn, general weakness and loss of vitality.

It contains valuable ingredients which accomplish their work in four beneficial ways; as a mild tonic, stomach stimulant, laxative, and diuretic stimulant for the kidneys.

Mr. Millard McKellips of Brooks, Calif., prominent Rancher who has lived in the same locality 26 years, says S.L.K. gave him marvelous results.

Money Back Guarantee

Williams S.L.K. Formula is guaranteed to get quick, wonderful results from Sluggish Stomach, Liver, Bowels and Kidneys—or your MONEY BACK! Get a bottle today from Shadle's Drug Store and if you are not completely—utterly—satisfied from your very first bottle, return the empty bottle and carton, and your money will be refunded. The trial will cost you nothing!

Cleanup CALIFORNIA'S LIQUOR SITUATION

VOTE
YES ON 3
FOR LIQUOR LAW ENFORCEMENT

Proposition 3 removes liquor control entirely from State Board of Equalization. Sets up impartial Alcoholic Beverage Commission. Provides adequate local enforcement. Provides mandatory public hearings on demand of local authorities and authorizes commission to deny or revoke licenses if character of applicant or place of business unsatisfactory. Authorizes commission to limit number of licenses in any community.

VOTE
NO ON 9
PREVENT RETURN OF PROHIBITION

Under misleading title of Local Option, Proposition 9 gives City Councils and Boards of Supervisors power to bring back bone dry prohibition overnight WITHOUT A VOTE OF THE PEOPLE. Would inject wet and dry issue into every local election. Would bring back bootleggers and speakeasies. Would cause widespread unemployment and irreparable loss to our $400,000,000 wine and grape industries and $250,000,000 tourist trade.

CITIZENS LIQUOR LAW ENFORCEMENT COMMITTEE
306 Sharon Building • San Francisco • Telephone EXbrook 2762
F. M. McAULIFFE, General Chairman GERTRUDE ATHERTON, Chairman Women's Division

PATRONIZE PRESS ADVERTIZERS

TAXES... are payable
FOR THE FISCAL YEAR 1936-1937

THE FIRST INSTALLMENT of taxes, including tax on all personal property secured by real estate and one-half of the tax on real property, becomes due on November 1, 1936, and is delinquent on December 5, 1936, after which date a penalty of 8 per cent is added.

THE SECOND INSTALLMENT comprising the remaining one-half of the tax on real property is due on January 20, 1937, and becomes delinquent on April 20, 1937, after which time a further penalty of 3 per cent is added to all unpaid taxes.

BOTH INSTALLMENTS
of taxes may be paid in one remittance with the first installment, if desired, any time after October 20, 1936, at the Tax Collector's office in San Jose.

TAXES MAY BE PAID BY MAIL
if it is inconvenient for you to call at the Tax Office.

For the further convenience of taxpayers, the Tax Collector will be at

CAMPBELL
At the American Trust Company Bank on November 10, 1936
During Banking Hours

Roy P. Emerson
TAX COLLECTOR OF SANTA CLARA COUNTY

IMPORTANT...
Original Tax Bills Mailed to Tax Payers Must be Returned When Paying Taxes.

ESTIMATES FURNISHED :: :: :: :: DESIGNS SUBMITTED
B. H. PAINTER
CONTRACTOR & BUILDER
of
New and Modern Homes, Etc.
I WILL ASSIST YOU IN ARRANGING FOR BUILDING LOAN, IF REQUIRED
HOME OFFICE: Gordon Ave., Hillcrest, S. J. Phone Mayfair 432
CAMPBELL OFFICE: Campbell Lumber Company Phone 113

You and I just sit back and let GAS Heating do the work.

Aren't we economical, too? Think how little it is costing.

For HOMEY COMFORT NOTHING EQUALS GAS HEATING

Living costs in the winter months are higher than any season of the year. More lighting is needed. More meals are eaten at home. More heat is required. This is the peak season for low temperatures and high household costs.

Fortunately, since Gas heating has become so universally popular, one item of winter expense has been cut down. With Gas heating the ease of temperature control keeps rooms from getting too warm, prevents fuel waste and saves you money. Then too, even, uniform gas heat promotes health, reduces the hazards of winter colds.

Does your home have this economical winter health protection? You can afford it. Do not be misled. Get the facts about low cost gas heating for your home today. Get your home ready for winter now. Install Modern, carefree and economical Gas Heating.

Have you seen THE SMARTLY MODERN GAS CIRCULATING HEATERS?

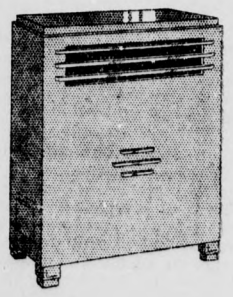
Gas Circulating Heaters will establish style leadership in 1937. In modern design as pictured below the Gas Circulator comes in a wide range of colors, set off with smart chromium trim. Featured, too, is Thermostat Heat Control — that prevents waste and saves you money. Prices are low. You will get greatest dollar value in today's gas heating equipment.



P.G. and E. on the air!
CALIFORNIA TALES
FOR AND BY CALIFORNIANS
½ HOUR SHOW
KGO
6:30 P.M.
EVERY THURSDAY
OCT. 8 A TALE OF SAN FRANCISCO
OCT. 15 A TALE OF OAKLAND
OCT. 22 A TALE OF SACRAMENTO
OCT. 29 A TALE OF SANTA ROSA

256-1036

SEE YOUR DEALER OR
P • G • and E •
PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY
OWNED • OPERATED • MANAGED BY CALIFORNIANS